THE FIGHTING ILLINI

CHRIS TAMAS

HEAD COACH

NINTH SEASON AS HEAD COACH

NINTH SEASON AT ILLINOIS

Chris Tamas enters his ninth season as head coach of the Fighting Illini volleyball program in 2025 after being named to the position in February 2017. Tamas (pronounced Thomas) is the eighth head coach in Illinois history.

Across his first eight seasons at the helm of the program, Tamas has made an impact on Illinois volleyball and owns an overall record of 149-94 (.613), including a 90-68 (.560) mark in the nation's toughest volleyball league, the Big Ten Conference. He also has guided the Fighting Illini to five NCAA Tournament appearances, including three NCAA Regional appearances and a trip to the Final Four in 2018, while he has led the Orange and Blue to 10+ conference wins in seven of his eight seasons thus far.

The 2024 campaign marked the fifth NCAA Tournament appearance under Tamas' leadership. The Orange and Blue posted an 18-13 overall mark with a 10-10 conference record in the new 18-team Big Ten. Under Tamas' guidance, Raina Terry was named to the AVCA All-American Third Team. The outside hitter recorded an amazing final season with the Fighting Illini, closing out her career with 2,138 kills, 2,522.0 points, and 220 aces; all three marks rank first in the Illinois volleyball record book.

During the 2022 season, Tamas led the Fighting Illini to a 15-15 overall record and a 10-10 tally against Big Ten opponents. Junior outside hitter Terry was named a unanimous selection to the All-Big Ten First Team and also received AVCA All-Region honors. Brooke Mosher was named to the All-Big Ten Freshman Team that season as well. Illinois improved to 16-14 in 2023 with an 11-9 Big Ten mark. Terry, once again, received All-Big Ten First Team honors and garnered AVCA All-Region accolades for a second-straight year.

Tamas earned his 100th career win – all of which came at the helm of the Illini program – after leading Illinois to its third trip to the Round of 16 in five seasons after back-to-back wins to open the 2021 NCAA Tournament, including a four-set win over 2020-21 national champion and No. 7 seed Kentucky in Lexington. The Illini concluded the 2021 season ranked No. 16 in the AVCA Division I Coaches Top 25 Poll with a 22-12 overall record and finished seventh with a 12-8 mark in the Big Ten Conference.

Chris Tamas was named the eighth head coach in Illinois volleyball history on Feb. 10, 2017.

Illinois experienced one of its most successful seasons ever in 2018 under Tamas, who was named American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) Northeast Region Coach of the Year. The Illini made the program's fourth-ever appearance in the NCAA National Semifinals as the No. 3 overall seed in the tournament – riding a 17-match win streak into the Final Four – and ended the season ranked No. 3 in the AVCA Coaches Poll. The team registered a 32-4 overall record and finished in second place in the Big Ten Conference with a 17-3 mark, with the 32 victories ranking tied for fourth-most wins in school history.

Under Tamas' leadership, the Illini have collected a number of individual honors, highlighted by AVCA All-America First-Team selections in Jordyn Poulter and Jacqueline Quade – the first time in program history that Illinois has had multiple first-team honors in a season – as well as a Third Team selection in Ali Bastianelli. Poulter and Bastianelli, who also garnered All-America Third Team honors in 2017, were also named Senior CLASS Award finalists and CoSIDA Academic All-District honorees. The trio also collected unanimous All-Big Ten First Team accolades, with junior Ashlyn Fleming named to the Second Team and Poulter garnering the Illini's first-ever Big Ten Conference Co-Setter of the Year honor.

In his first season at Illinois – and his first-ever campaign as an NCAA Division I head coach –

Tamas led the Illini back to the NCAA Regionals for the program's 17th Round of 16 appearance in its history. The Illini finished the 2017 season with a 23-11 overall record, including a fifth-place showing in the Big Ten Conference with a 12-8 mark as well as a final ranking of No. 17 in the AVCA Coaches Poll.

Tamas came to Illinois following many years learning from some of the game's great coaches, including John Cook at Nebraska and former U.S. National Team coaches Hugh McCutcheon and Ron Larsen. In all, Tamas will be entering his 17th year of collegiate coaching in the Fall of 2025, including two years at Nebraska, two years at Cal Poly, two years at Minnesota, and two years at UC-Riverside.

Tamas is a 2003 graduate of the University of the Pacific with a degree in sports sciences. He was a four-year starter for the Tigers and a unanimous AVCA All-American First Team selection and team MVP during his 2003 senior season. In four years with the U.S. Men's National Team (1999, 2003, 2005-06), Tamas made 34 appearances, and, in 1999, helped the squad to a silver medal at the World Junior Championships in Havana, Cuba. As national team captain in 2003, Tamas helped lead the United State to a bronze medal at the World University Games in Daegu, South Korea.

A training camp invitee for the U.S. squad that eventually captured the 2008 Olympic gold medal, Tamas also helped U.S. teams to silver at the 2005 World Grand Champions Cup in Japan and, as a setter, to a gold at the 2006 NORCECA Championships in Mexicali, Mexico.

As a professional, Tamas competed for six years overseas with clubs Protect Eye Orion (Netherlands), Antigos Alunos (Portugal), Real Grupo (Spain), Erdemir (Turkey), Dionysos (Cyprus) and Isku (Finland). In Finland and Cyprus, Tamas helped his clubs to national cup championships.

A native of Santa Barbara, California, Tamas and his wife, Jennifer (Joines) Tamas, have three children, Jimmy, Josephine, and Carly. Along with serving as the Illinois assistant coach, Jennifer was also a volunteer assistant at both Nebraska and Cal Poly. She was a four-time All-American middle blocker at Pacific (2000-03) and silver medalist with the United States at the 2008 Summer Olympics while playing professionally for eight years in Japan, Italy, Russia, Azerbaijan, and Puerto Rico. She was the U.S. Women's National Team captain for four years.

Assistant Coach/Recruiting Coordinator, Villanova, 2018-20
Assistant Coach, Tulane, 2016-17
Director of Operations, UCF, 2014-15

Illinois volleyball head coach Chris Tamas announced the addition of Meredith Schamun (pronounced shah-MOON) as the Associate Head Coach in June of 2025.

Schamun joins the Fighting Illini following a four-year stint at Penn. Most recently, she guided the Quakers to a successful 13-10 campaign with an 7-7 Ivy League record in 2024. The season included the Quakers' first win over rival Princeton since 2015 and their first victory over Brown since 2019. Following the season, a pair of Schamun's players received honorable mention All-Ivy recognition.

Schamun came to Penn from Villanova, where she helped the Wildcats to a 39-23 record in two seasons as the assistant coach and recruiting coordinator. Schamun assisted Villanova to a pair of Big East Tournament appearances and a combined 23-13 record in league play. In 2019, the Wildcats were 22-9 overall and 13-5 in the Big East. That year, she guided the Wildcat offense, which finished second in the league in hitting percentage, and trained Villanova's all-time assist leader.

Prior to arriving at Villanova, Schamun spent two seasons at Tulane as an assistant coach, helping the Green Wave to the highest RPI jump in the nation (157 spots) in 2016. Tulane had its first winning season in three years and finished fifth in the American Athletic Conference with Schamun on the sideline.

From 2014-15, Schamun was the director of volleyball operations at UCF, helping organize travel, scheduling, and recruiting for the Knights, who won the conference title and reached the NCAA Championship field in 2014.

A highly decorated setter at Rice University, Schamun was a four-year starter for the Owls. The Conference USA Setter of the Year in 2009, Schamun was a Conference USA Championship MVP, two-time All-C-USA First Team, AVCA All-Region, and AVCA All-America honorable mention selection. She helped lead the Owls to a conference championship and two NCAA Championship berths, and finished her career as Rice's all-time leader in assists with 5,190.

Following her time with the Owls, Schamun played professionally in Germany for one season.

Schamun graduated from Rice in 2011 with a bachelor's degree in kinesiology and policy studies for healthcare administration and earned a master's from UCF in sport and exercise science in 2015.

Eli Sharping joined the volleyball staff as an assistant coach in February 2020. Sharping is in charge of technical coordinating, opponent scout, and camp while also aiding in day-to-day operations, recruiting, and player development.

In 2024, Sharping saw the Illini record an 18-13 overall mark with an 10-10 record against an expanded Big Ten slate. Racking up the accolades yet again was Raina Terry, who was a unanimous All-Big Ten First Team honoree, an AVCA All-Region selection, and an AVCA All-American during her final campaign donning the Orange and Blue. Terry closed out her career with 2,138 kills, 2,522.0 points, and 220 aces. All three marks rank first in the Illinois volleyball record book. In her lone season with the Illini, libero Christina Martinez Mundo shined under Sharping's direction, posting a squad-high 404 digs, including four matches with 20-plus digs.

Illinois posted a 16-14 record in 2023 with an 11-9 Big Ten mark. Terry, once again, received All-Big Ten First Team honors and garnered AVCA All-Region accolades for a second-straight year. Libero Caroline Barnes also earned CSC Academic All-District honors for a second-straight season in 2023.

During the 2022 season, Sharping saw the Fighting Illini go 15-15 overall and 10-10 against Big Ten opponents. Junior outside hitter Raina Terry was named a unanimous selection to the All-Big Ten First Team and also received AVCA All-Region honors. Diana Brown went back-to-back under Sharping's tenure, earning Academic All-America honors from the newly named College Sports Communicators (CSC) organization.

In his second year with the Illini program, Sharping guided the Orange and Blue to the Round of 16 in the NCAA Tournament. Sharping saw Megan Cooney earn AVCA All-America Honorable Mention recognition following a stellar campaign during which the outside hitter ranked second on the team with 376 kills for a 3.03 kills per set average and a .267 hitting percentage. Cooney capped off her career with over 1,500 kills. Sharping also oversaw Diana Brown and her achievements as the setter was named a CoSIDA Academic All-American in 2021.

In his first season with the Illini in 2020, Sharping was instrumental in Taylor Kuper's transition to libero during a breakout junior season in which she collected AVCA Northeast All-Region Honorable Mention and All-Big Ten First-Team accolades while leading the Big Ten Conference and ranking fifth nationally in aces and ranking fourth in the league with 4.41 digs per set.

Sharping arrived at Illinois following a successful three-season stint as an assistant coach at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee after joining the Panther staff in spring of 2017.

While at Milwaukee, Sharping helped MKE see major growth in the volleyball program, including seeing an 18-win improvement from 2018 that culminated in a 26-6 overall record in 2019 and a 12-4 mark in conference play, with the Panthers earning a No. 2 seed in the Horizon League Tournament, marking its highest postseason seed since 2014. MKE's 26 wins were also a program-best since moving to the NCAA Division I level.

Primarily responsible for defense and passing, Sharping guided Milwaukee to a 20% improvement in digs per set, while opponent attack percentage dropped 24%. He helped train 2019 Horizon League Freshman of the Year Ari Miller, who averaged 2.71 kills per set and attacked at a .285 clip as a rookie, as well as libero Jess Grabowski, who broke the freshman dig record in 2018 and then went on to break the program record for digs/set as a sophomore and was named Horizon League Honorable Mention All-Conference.

Prior to Milwaukee, Sharping spent two seasons at the University of Tulsa, where he helped the Golden Hurricane amass 34 wins, including a 19-13 record in his final year with the program. Sharping arrived at Tulsa in 2015 after one season as the assistant coach with the East Carolina Pirates. In 2014, ECU posted 15 wins in a tough American Athletic Conference.

Before heading to ECU, Sharping served as an assistant coach at the University of Georgia during the 2013 season. Sharping was responsible for opponent scouting using Data Volley and Data Video. In his year with Georgia, he helped guide the Bulldogs to a 22-9 mark, which was the program's best record since 1994. He also led Georgia to an 11-win conference mark, which tallied the Bulldogs' best SEC record since the 1995 season as they went on to their first NCAA Tournament berth since 2004.

Prior to his stint at Georgia, Sharping served as a volunteer assistant coach at the University of Wisconsin. He helped the Badgers to a 17-win season while assisting the coaching staff with opponent scouting, video exchange, and on-campus recruiting.

In addition to his collegiate coaching experience, Sharping also brings years of club-level success to Champaign. He spent five seasons as the head coach of the Capital Volleyball Academy in Madison, Wis., where he coached the 16, 17, and 18 age levels. In his second year with CVA, Sharping pioneered his squad to a ninth-place finish at the Junior Volleyball Association National Championships at the 18 Open Level before leading his 2010 team to a fifth-place showing at the 18 Open Level AAU National Championships.

Sharping also brings several years of camp experience to the Illini, as he has worked volleyball camps at Wisconsin, Marquette, Nebraska, and Georgia.

While a student at Wisconsin, Sharping played for the men's club team from 2007-11 and served as a practice player for the women's volleyball team from 2008-11. He was also a member of the Sports Performance Boys' Volleyball Club from 2005-07. The all-area, all-conference, and honorable mention all-state selection at Lake Park High School (Ill.) earned his bachelor's degree in neurobiology from Wisconsin in 2012.

JEN TAMAS

ASSISTANT COACH

NINTH SEASON

Jen Tamas is in her ninth season on the Illinois volleyball coaching staff after joining the Illini as a volunteer assistant coach in March 2017. With the NCAA eliminating the volunteer coach designation in July of 2023, Tamas (pronounced Thomas) was elevated to assistant coach.

Tamas helped Illinois to vast improvement in 2024, with the team owning an 18-13 overall record and a 10-10 mark against 18 Big Ten foes. Racking up the accolades once again was Raina Terry, who was a unanimous All-Big Ten First Team honoree, an AVCA All-Region selection, and an AVCA All-American during her final campaign donning the Orange and Blue.

Terry closed out her career with 2,138 kills, 2,522.0 points, and 220 aces. All three marks rank first in the Illinois volleyball record book. Terry wasn't the only Illini to earn an all-conference nod as middle blocker Ashlyn Philpot was named to the All-Freshman Team. Philpot became a mainstay in the Fighting Illini lineup since the first match of the season, as the middle blocker started all 30 contests for the Orange and Blue in 2024. In her first match at Huff Hall, the North Carolina native tallied a double-double, amassing 11 kills and 10 blocks. The last time a middle blocker achieved such a feat was Kennedy Collins in 2021. The last freshman middle to post such numbers was Illini All-American and Ali Bastianelli in 2015. Philpot tallied double-digit kills in four Big Ten matches in her debut season, including 17 kills in a five-set triumph over No. 20 USC. The following night, she recorded 11 kills while hitting .667 against Ohio State. Such marks accompanied with nine roofs on the weekend helped Philpot earn her first-ever Big Ten Freshman of the Week honor.

During the 2022 season, Tamas saw the Fighting Illini go 15-15 overall and 10-10 against Big Ten opponents. Junior outside hitter Raina Terry was named a unanimous selection to the All-Big Ten First Team and also received AVCA All-Region honors. Brooke Mosher was named to the All-Big Ten Freshman Team that season as well. Illinois improved to 16-14 in 2023 with an 11-9 Big Ten mark. Terry, once again, received All-Big Ten First Team honors and garnered AVCA All-Region accolades for a second-straight year.

In 2021, Tamas helped Illinois to its third trip to the Round of 16 in five seasons following back-to-back wins to open the 2021 NCAA Tournament. The Illini finished the 2021 season ranked No. 16 in the AVCA Division I Coaches Top 25 Poll with a 22-12 overall record and finished seventh with a 12-8 mark in the Big Ten Conference.

Illinois experienced one of its most successful seasons ever in 2018 as the Illini made the program's fourth-ever appearance in the NCAA National Semifinals as the No. 3 overall seed in the tournament – riding a 17-match win streak into the Final Four – and ended the season ranked No. 3 in the AVCA Coaches Poll. The team registered a 32-4 overall record and finished in second place in the Big Ten Conference with a 17-3 mark, with the 32 victories ranking tied for fourth-most wins in a single season in school history.

Under Tamas' leadership, the Illini have collected a number of individual honors, highlighted by AVCA All-America First-Team selections in Jordyn Poulter and Jacqueline Quade. Middle blocker Ali Bastianelli also garnered All-America honors. The middle blocker was the first Illini player to reach 700 career blocks, owning 750 for her career.

In her first season at Illinois, Tamas helped the Illini back to the NCAA Regionals for the program's 17th Round of 16 appearance in its history. The Illini finished the 2017 season with a 23-11 overall record, including a fifth-place showing in the Big Ten Conference with a 12-8 mark, as well as a final ranking of No. 17 in the AVCA Coaches Poll.

Tamas joined her husband at Illinois following volunteer assistant stints with him at Nebraska from 2015-2017 and at Cal Poly from 2013-14.

The former Jen Joines was a four-time All-American middle blocker at Pacific (2000-03). She played professionally for eight years in Japan, Italy, Russia, Azerbaijan, and Puerto Rico and was the U.S. Women's National Team captain for four years.

As a middle blocker with the United States Women's National Team, Jen Tamas made more than 60 appearances in eight years. She assisted the U.S. to silver at the 2008 Beijing Summer Olympics, and helped lift the country to gold at the 2012 Pan-American Cup.

She was the 2003 Big West Conference Player of the Year and 2000 Big West Freshman of the Year at Pacific, where she led the Tigers to the NCAA Tournament each year. Tamas earned communication and business degrees at Pacific. Tamas was inducted into the Pacific Athletics Hall of Fame in 2016.

A native of Santa Clara, California, Tamas and her husband have three children: Jimmy, Josephine, and Carly.

Montana State University Billings, 2023

Hannah Hashbarger enters her first season as the director of operations for the Illinois volleyball program.

Hashbarger comes to Illinois following two seasons on the Regis volleyball staff, serving as the director of operations and engagement. As the program's director of operations and engagement, Hashbarger combined her expertise in brand marketing, leadership, and program management to support the team's success.

With a keen eye for detail and a passion for organization, she oversaw the program's social media presence across Instagram, Facebook, and X (formerly Twitter), ensuring consistent branding through compelling photo and video content. Additionally, she managed email marketing campaigns to strengthen communication with fans, donors, and alumni, while fostering support for the program.

Originally from Portland, Oregon, Hashbarger spent four years at Montana State University Billings, graduating in 2023.

JOSH WHITMAN

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS
ILLINOIS, 2001
NINTH YEAR AT ILLINOIS

Illinois alumnus Josh Whitman was hired as the University's 14th permanent director of athletics on February 17, 2016. Now in his ninth year, Whitman owns the third-longest tenure among current Big Ten athletic directors and 12th-longest among the Autonomy 4. He has led an impressive effort to establish Fighting Illini Athletics among the nation's elite in both the competitive arena and the classroom.

Whitman has become a prominent voice in college athletics, highlighted by leadership roles in Big Ten and NCAA governance. In 2023, Whitman was appointed to a four-year term as the Big Ten representative to the NCAA Division I Council. In April 2024, Whitman was elected chair of the Council, a position he will hold until June 30, 2026. As Council chair, Whitman also is a voting member of the NCAA Division I Board of Directors, comprised primarily of presidents and chancellors from Division I institutions, and an ex officio member of the NCAA Board of Governors, the highest governing body of the NCAA.

From 2021-23 Whitman co-chaired the Big Ten's Administrators' Council and served on the Conference's Joint Group Executive Committee. In addition, he represented the Big Ten on the Rose Bowl Management Committee through 2023.

Illinois is coming off perhaps the most successful season of Whitman's tenure in 2023-24, exhibited by a No. 37 final ranking in the Learfield Directors Cup while recording the program's highest point total (599.75) under his leadership. The Fighting Illini won a total of four Big Ten championships on the season in baseball (regular season), men's basketball (tournament), women's indoor track & field, and men's gymnastics (regular season), the most for Illinois Athletics since 2015. Additionally, the men's golf program won the NCAA Regional title en route to yet another top-5 NCAA finish, women's basketball claimed the crown in the inaugural Women's Basketball Invitation Tournament (WBIT), and two Illini student-athletes brought home individual NCAA championships.

The 2023-24 season continued momentum from the year prior, 2022-23, when Illinois finished as one of just 14 schools to have its football team play in a bowl game and both its men's and women's basketball teams participate in the NCAA Tournament. Of those 14 schools, Whitman is one of only two current athletic directors to have hired all three of the involved head coaches. The Fighting Illini also captured Big Ten championships in both men's and women's golf and had three student-athletes win NCAA individual titles in 2023.

Whitman has prompted a national resurgence in men's basketball that began with his 2017 hiring of head coach Brad Underwood, widely considered one of college basketball's best hires over the last decade. During the last five seasons, Underwood's Illini have posted the best record in the Big Ten while winning conference titles in three of the last four years. At the same time, State Farm Center has become one of the most feared home courts in college basketball, with average attendance in the top 12 nationally and more than 20 sellouts the last two seasons. The men's basketball program has set Illinois revenue records in three consecutive seasons en route to becoming the Big Ten's most profitable program.

Men's Basketball had a banner year in 2023-24, appearing in the NCAA Tournament for its fourth consecutive year and advancing to the Elite Eight for the first time since 2005. The team captured its second Big Ten Tournament title in four years and totaled 29 victories to mark the third-winningest season in school history. Illinois ended the year at No. 6 in the AP poll, its second top-10 final ranking of the Underwood era.

In 2021-22, the Illini won 15 Big Ten games and earned a share of the Big Ten regular-season championship, the 18th in program history and its first in 17 years. For the second consecutive year, the team earned a Top 4 seed to the NCAA Tournament and won its opening round game.

The basketball program's remarkable ascent was highlighted by the 2020-21 campaign, which, by many measures, was one of the most successful in Illinois history. The Illini topped the Big Ten standings in wins, setting a school record with 16 league victories. Illinois then captured its first Big Ten Tournament Championship in 16 years and earned a No. 1 seed in the 2021 NCAA Tournament. Illinois ended the season at No. 2 in the AP poll.

Whitman's influence also has been notable on the gridiron. An Illini letterman himself, Whitman has helped engineer the football team's return to national competitiveness, highlighted by hiring three-time Big Ten champion head coach Bret Bielema in December of 2020. In Bielema's first season, the Illini won their most conference games in 14 years, including back-to-back road victories at No. 7 Penn State and No. 20 Minnesota.

During his first year on the job, Whitman launched the Illinois Athletics Hall of Fame and celebrated the 28-person inaugural class with a black-tie gala in Chicago in June 2017.

That set the stage for 2022, the second year of Bielema's tenure, which became Illinois Football's best season since 2007. Illinois started the regular season 7-1 en route to winning eight regular season games and narrowly missing a place in the Big Ten Championship Game. The Illini were ranked in the Top 25 for five straight weeks, reaching a high of 14th, while also appearing in the College Football Playoff rankings for the first time in program history. Led by its defense, which led the nation in scoring defense for the first time in school history, the Fighting Illini participated in a January bowl game for the first time since the 2008 Rose Bowl.

Illinois narrowly missed a return bowl trip in 2023, going 5-7 with a staggering eight games decided by one score. As he continues to gain momentum and improve every facet of the program, Bielema has already won 12 Big Ten games, the most by an Illini coach through his first three seasons in 30 years. Illinois also continues to make waves in the NFL, with a total of eight draft picks over the last two years. Fans have showed enthusiasm for the surging program, with average attendance in 2023 at its highest since 2010 and up more than 15% from the year prior.

Back to the hardwood, Whitman's hiring of Shauna Green in women's basketball has ignited another turnaround in Fighting Illini Athletics. In 2022-23, Green's first year at the helm, she led the team to a historic 15-win improvement, the best year-over-year change ever at Illinois and the third-largest in Big Ten history. Illinois won 22 games, the third-most victories in program history, and made the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2003. Green then led Illinois to its first postseason title in school history during her second season, 2023-24, as Illinois roared to the title of the NCAA's first-ever WBIT while setting school revenue records for women's basketball.

In total during Whitman's tenure, Illinois teams have made 94 NCAA postseason appearances, highlighted by 26 teams finishing in the top 16 nationally and seven finishing in the nation's top four. In addition, eight Illinois student-athletes have captured 10 individual national championships (wrestler Isaiah Martinez, 2016; men's gymnast Brandon Ngai, 2016; men's gymnast Alex Diab, 2018 and 2019; men's gymnast Ian Skirkey, 2021; Skirkey, fellow men's gymnast Ashton Anaya, and women's track and field athlete Olivia Howell, 2023; and men's gymnast Tate Costa and women's track and field athlete Rose Yeboah, 2024).

Illinois has captured a total of 16 Big Ten titles under Whitman: men's golf (2016-19, 21-23), women's golf (2023), men's basketball (2022 regular season, 2021 & 2024 tournaments), men's tennis (2021 tournament), men's gymnastics (2024 regular season, 2018 tournament), baseball (2024 regular season), and women's track and field (2024 indoor).

Whitman has executed an aggressive facilities agenda since his hiring. The marquee building is the $79.2 million, 110,000-square-foot Henry Dale and Betty Smith Football Center, which was formally dedicated in October 2019. A multi-year renovation and expansion of the Ubben Basketball Complex was a $40 million project that finished in the fall of 2022 and was officially dedicated in February of 2023. Other completed projects include the $21 million Demirjian Park, home for the Illinois soccer and track and field programs that opened in the spring of 2021, and the $8 million Susan and Clint Atkins Baseball Training Center and $6 million Rex and Alice A. Martin Softball Training Center, both dedicated in October 2022.

To assist Illinois' nationally ranked men's and women's golf programs, Whitman orchestrated the acquisition of the former Stone Creek Golf Club as part of a $15 million, multi-faceted gift of real estate to the University from long-time friends of Illinois Athletics, the Atkins family. The course, now rebranded the Atkins Golf Club at the University of Illinois, underwent extensive renovations using funds from a $5 million anonymous gift to provide Illinois Golf with a championship-caliber home.

To support this facility plan and various other strategic initiatives, Whitman has teamed with DIA's Office of Athletic Development to achieve unprecedented success on the fundraising trail. Whitman's arrival synchronized with the public launch and execution of the campus-wide With Illinois fundraising campaign. As part of the With Illinois campaign, DIA secured more than $321 million in fundraising production, easily surpassing its fundraising goal of $300 million. The campaign featured several of the largest single gifts in program history, including a $20 million donation from the H.D. Smith Foundation, led by brothers Dale and Chris Smith, to name Smith Football Center.

Under Whitman's leadership, Illinois is amid seven consecutive fiscal years of recording more than $30 million in new gift commitments (FY18 through FY24), with three consecutive years (FY18 through FY20) exceeding $40 million. In FY20, Illinois secured more than $45 million in new gifts, the second-highest single-year total in Illinois Athletics history. In FY24, I FUND giving totaled $8.27 million, marking the annual fund's most successful year in the last decade.

In 2016, Whitman announced the creation of the University's Athletics Hall of Fame, which will induct its eighth class in the fall of 2024. In the winter of 2022, following an extensive community effort, the Illinois High School Association returned its Boys State Basketball Championship series back to State Farm Center after an absence of more than 25 years. In 2021, he created the first full-time executive leadership position tasked with daily leadership of DIA's diversity and inclusion efforts. During Whitman's tenure, DIA has hosted a Diversity Summit (spring of 2018) and a Title IX Summit (fall of 2022), the latter intended to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Title IX's passage.

Whitman has also been a regular presence in Springfield, testifying in committee and working with state lawmakers on a variety of issues impacting college athletics, including name-image-likeness and sports gambling. In the summer of 2020, Whitman joined Governor J.B. Pritzker in State Farm Center while the Governor signed into law the Student-Athlete Endorsement Rights Act, the state's inaugural NIL bill.

Whitman, a former Academic All-American at Illinois, emphasizes strong performance by Fighting Illini student-athletes in the classroom as well. In each year of his tenure, student-athletes have posted a combined GPA of above 3.12. Under Whitman's leadership, the student-athlete population as a whole and individual teams have set school records for GPA, APR scores and GSR scores. Illini student-athletes enter the 2024-25 academic year with a school-record streak of 28-consecutive semesters with a combined GPA above 3.0.

At the time of his hiring in early 2016, Whitman, then at age 37, was the youngest athletics director in the Autonomy 5. Prior to returning to Illinois, Whitman, now 46 years old, spent nearly six years as an athletics director at two universities. He came to Champaign-Urbana following almost two years as director of athletics at Washington University in St. Louis, a nationally recognized NCAA Division III program with 19 varsity sports and approximately 500 student-athletes. Before joining Washington University, Whitman served four years as the director of athletics at the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse, another of the nation's leading Division III programs. Combined at those two institutions, Whitman's teams earned four national titles, 24 NCAA top-five team finishes and 34 conference championships.

Whitman has two Illinois degrees. He graduated with Bronze Tablet honors in 2001 while earning a bachelor's degree in finance. In 2008, he graduated summa cum laude from the Illinois College of Law before serving as a judicial law clerk for Judge Michael Kanne on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit. From 2005 to 2008, he worked for DIA and former Illini athletics director Ron Guenther in various administrative capacities.

On the gridiron for the Fighting Illini, Whitman played in 45 games from 1997-2000, catching 52 career passes and seven touchdowns. He was a two-time First Team Academic All-American and earned Honorable Mention All-Big Ten honors his senior season. He then spent parts of four seasons as a player in the National Football League, including stints with the San Diego Chargers, Miami Dolphins, Seattle Seahawks, and Buffalo Bills. In 2024, Whitman, a native of West Lafayette, Ind., was selected for induction in the Indiana Football Hall of Fame.

Prior to embarking on his career in athletics administration, Whitman practiced law in Washington, D.C., with Covington & Burling LLP, a firm with a preeminent sports practice that represents, among other clients, the National Football League. Whitman remains a licensed attorney and is a member of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and LEAD1 Association. He also served on the national board of directors for the Sports Lawyers Association from 2019-23.

Whitman's leadership has earned national attention, highlighted in early 2018 when Sports Business Journal named him to its prestigious Forty Under 40 list. In July 2017, Whitman was selected Central Illinois Business Magazine's Forty Under 40 Man of the Year.

Whitman is married to Hope Whitman. They have two children: a daughter Tate, who is eight, and a six-year-old son, Will. The Whitmans have become engaged in several Champaign-Urbana community organizations, including United Way, Champaign County Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) for Children, Courage Connection, Coaches vs. Cancer, and the Tom Jones Challenger League. Whitman has been recognized as a Paul Harris Fellow by the Champaign Rotary and was selected as the 2023 Distinguished Citizen by the Prairieland Council of the Boy Scouts of America. He and Hope are members of the I FUND's Loyalty Circle and made a significant gift to the Smith Football Center to honor football alumni inside the facility.

RECORD BOOK

ILLINI VOLLEYBALL HISTORY

1974

The University of Illinois recognized the women's athletics program as part of the Athletic Association, naming Dr. Karol Kahrs to head the seven-sport program. Volleyball was one of the seven newly incorporated varsity sports. Kahrs originally came to Illinois in 1966, coaching the volleyball and women's basketball teams.

The first UI varsity volleyball squad, coached by Kathleen Haywood, posted a 19-9 record, finishing fourth in the IAIAW State Championship and advancing to the second round of the MAIAW Regional Championship.

1975

In the first season of Big Ten championship play, Illinois posted a 4-2 record to finish second. Illinois tabbed a 15-14 overall mark under head coach Terry Hite, finishing fourth in the IAIAW State Championship.

1976

Illinois posted a 25-14 record, going 3-1 in the Big Ten playoffs, good for fifth place. Illinois tied for fifth in the IAIAW State Championship.

1977

First-year head coach Chris Accornero led Illinois to its second-highest win total in the program's history, posting a 38-17-6 record and advancing to the AIAW National Championship, in which the team defeated North Carolina, 2-0.

1978

Illinois posted its fifth-consecutive winning record, registering a 28-14-1 mark and earning third place in the Big Ten playoffs.

The Fighting Illini won the state tournament and placed third at MAIAW Regionals. It was the last winning season at Illinois for five years.

1981

The NCAA absorbed the AIAW and took control of Division I college volleyball.

1982

The Big Ten Conference sanctioned women's athletics, incorporating a 13-match volleyball schedule. Illinois finished 8-5 in league play, coming in third place after losing its final two home conference matches.

1983

The Mike Hebert era began with a 5-25 overall mark, 3-11 in Big Ten play.

Illinois established records for losses (25) and consecutive defeats (17). Illinois swept Wisconsin, 3-0, on Sept. 16 at Kenney Gym for Hebert's first Fighting Illini victory.

Kenney Gym seating capacity was listed at 800.

1984

Illinois began the season by winning nine of its first 12 matches, before settling into an 18-15 record, 6-7 in Big Ten play.

Hebert and assistant coach Don Hardin brought in a recruiting class consisting of middle hitter Lori Anderson, middle blocker Elizabeth Binkley, outside hitter Paula Douglass, and setter Disa Johnson.

Middle blocker Denise Fracaro led the team with 342 kills and a .226 attack percentage.

1985

Illinois exploded onto the national volleyball scene, winning its first 30 matches behind freshman sensation Mary Eggers.

The Big Ten adopted a round-robin, 18-match schedule, scrapping the four-team divisional playoff format.

Illinois posted a 38-2 regular-season record, finishing 16-2 in the Big Ten, one game back of league-champion Purdue. For the first time in school history, Illinois qualified for NCAA tournament play, defeating host Western Michigan, 3-1, and losing to USC, 3-0. The Western Michigan match featured the first-ever radio broadcast of illinois volleyball by WDWS AM-1400 radio.

Eggers was named Big Ten Freshman of the Year, and Hebert was named Kaepa National Coach of the Year. Eggers pounded 431 kills and hit .361.

Illinois established a Big Ten attendance record, drawing 2,632 fans to Kenney Gym on Oct. 4 to see the Fighting Illini sweep Iowa, 3-0. Illinois entered the AVCA poll for the first time in school history, climbing as high as seventh.

Following the highly successful and visible season, Illinois signed Volleyball Magazine All-Americans Bridget Boyle and Nancy Brookhart.

After a near-miss in 1985, Illinois blasted through the Big Ten schedule undefeated, winning its first league title with an 18-0 mark, 36-3 overall.

Johnson paced the team with a .300 hitting percentage, good for fourth in the nation.

Illinois posted a 26-match winning streak and drew 26,034 fans to Kenney Gym with three sellouts.

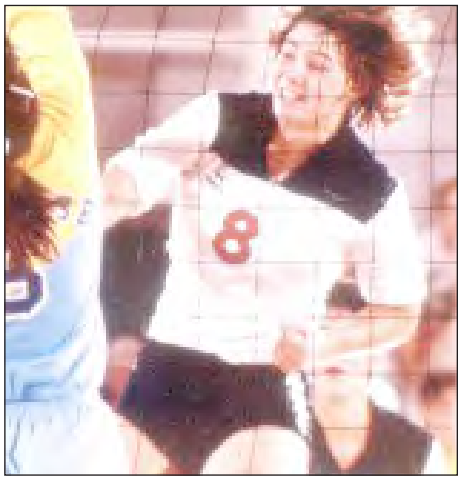
Illinois topped Northern Iowa, 3-1, and Western Michigan, 3-0, before losing to host Nebraska, 3-0, in the NCAA Mideast Regional finals.

Illinois was ranked in the top 15 in the nation for the entire season, finishing the season ranked ninth in the AVCA and 10th in the NCAA poll.

Eggers posted an astounding .455 hitting percentage to lead the nation. She earned AVCA/Russell First-Team All-America honors, the first of three consecutive First-Team All-America selections for the middle blocker. Eggers, Johnson, and senior Sally Rea earned first-team All-Big Ten honors.

1987

Illinois reached the pinnacle, establishing itself as the



Mary Eggers led the nation with a .455 hitting percentage in 1986.

Midwest's best team. The Fighting Illini won 31 of 38 matches and posted a 17-1 mark to win the Big Ten for the second consecutive year.

The Fighting Illini swept Nebraska, 3-0, in sold-out Kenney Gym in the NCAA Mideast Regional final. Hebert also earned his 300th career coaching victory and 100th Illinois win.

Eggers and Brookhart were named Co-Big Ten Players of the Year. Eggers earned AVCA/Russell First-Team All-America honors; Brookhart was named to the second team. Eggers hit .436, the second-best mark in the nation.

Illinois advanced to the NCAA Final Four for the first time with a 3-0 victory over No. 8 Nebraska before closing the season with a 3-0 loss to eventual NCAA champion Hawaii in the NCAA Semifinals in Indianapolis.

1988

Illinois was ranked No. 1 in the Volleyball Monthly preseason poll.

The Fighting Illini earned their fourth-consecutive 30-win season, putting together a 30-4 record and winning the Big Ten with a perfect 18-0 mark.

The Fighting Illini topped Oklahoma, 3-0, to win the NCAA Mideast Regional and earn a second-consecutive trip to the NCAA Semifinals.

For the second year in a row, Hawaii ended the Illinois season, this time by a 3-1 scoreline.

Eggers was named Big Ten Player of the Year and a First-Team All-American for the third consecutive year, hitting .433 to lead the nation. Eggers concluded her college career as the all-time NCAA leader in hitting efficiency at .420. Six months later, Mary Eggers received the prestigious Honda/Broderick Award symbolic of the nation's top collegiate volleyball player.

Eggers, Brookhart, and Winsett earned First-Team All-Big Ten honors. Illinois drew a record 33,729 fans to

Kenney Gym, an average of 2,108 fans per match.

1989

Injuries to key performers Brookhart and junior middle blocker Laura Bush saw Illinois post a 27-8 record, 13-5 in the Big Ten.

Illinois topped Big Ten champ Ohio State, 3-1, in the NCAA Mideast Regional Semifinal but fell to host Nebraska in the regional final.

Brookhart and Bush earned AVCA/Russell Second-Team All-America honors. Bush was also named a GTE/CoSIDA First-Team Academic All-American. Brookhart, Bush, and Winsett were chosen First-Team All-Big Ten. Winsett paced Illinois to a .303 attack percentage, second in the nation.

In April, Illinois signed the nation's top recruiting class, as selected by Volleyball Monthly magazine. Illinois inked four "Fab 50" picks.

In June, Illinois administrators announced the Fighting Illini's move to Huff Gym, increasing seating capacity to 4,050.

In its last season in Kenney Gym, Illinois drew nearly 2,000 fans per match, and ranked third in the nation in attendance.

Expectations soared for the Fighting Illini, who returned four senior starters, including All-America middle blocker Laura Bush and All-Big Ten selections Petra Laverman and Barb Winsett.

The four seniors joined the nation's top recruiting class as the Fighting Illini moved into Huff Gymnasium. Illinois, ranked No. 7 in the preseason by AVCA, won just six of its first 10 matches, losing to Stanford, Nebraska, and Pacific, despite holding a 2-0 lead in each match.

Illinois won three of its final four matches to advance to its sixth-consecutive NCAA tournament. The Fighting Illini fell in NCAA first-round action at Big Ten champion Wisconsin, 3-0, in front of a then all-time NCAA record crowd of 10,935. Illinois ended the season 21-12, 11-7 in the Big Ten, good for fourth place. The Illini played on television a record nine times.

Freshman middle blocker Kristin Henriksen earned Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors, winning the league hitting title at .379. Laverman earned First-Team All-Big Ten honors and Third-Team All-America status.

In April, Illinois landed the nation's top recruiting class for the second year in a row, according to Volleyball Monthly.

The youngest squad in Illinois history jumped out to a quick 10-3 start, 6-0 in the Big Ten, before winding up 19-10 (14-6 Big Ten) and in fourth place in the Big Ten. The Illini sold out Huff Hall for the first time, packing 4,050 fans in to see Ohio State.

Junior outside hitter Lorna Henderson earned First-Team All-Big Ten and Honorable Mention All-America honors after hitting .263 with 398 kills. She also earned Big Ten Player of the Week honors in successive weeks.

Freshman middle blocker Sue Nucci hit a team-high .322 and earned Big Ten Player of the Week honors.

The Illini advanced to their seventh consecutive NCAA tournament, losing at Nebraska in straight sets in the first round.

The Illini set records for single-season attendance and average attendance, drawing 31,391 fans in 14 home dates for an average of 2,242, good for sixth in the nation.

1992

Illinois won its fourth Big Ten championship (a co-championship with Penn State) with a 32-4 overall record, 19-1 in league play.

The Illini ranked among the top 5 in the nation all season, winning the Illini Classic and placing second at the Wahine Invitational and Reebok Challenge.

Illinois won five consecutive matches against ranked teams in September and strung together a 22-match winning streak late in the season, including 18 in a row in Big Ten play.

The Fighting Illini qualified for their eighth-consecutive NCAA tournament. Along the way, the Fighting Illini set an NCAA record for season attendance, leading the nation with 52,666 fans pouring into Huff Hall, an average of nearly 3,100 fans per match.

Illinois lost to eventual NCAA champion Stanford in the NCAA Mideast Regional final in front of a Huff Hall-record 4,316 fans.

Illini outside hitter Kirsten Gleis earned first-team All-America honors, outside hitter Tina Rogers was named a Second-Team All-American, and middle blocker Kristin Henriksen finished second in the national hitting race with a .433 attack percentage. Illinois took the NCAA hitting title with a .328 team percentage.

1993

Illinois opened the season ranked fourth in the nation and faced five top-20 teams to begin the year. After dropping all five matches, the Illini went on a nine-match win streak, including a 6-0 start in the Big Ten.

After splitting the final six Big Ten matches of the season, Illinois qualified for its ninth consecutive NCAA tournament, beating host Southwest Missouri State, 3-0, in the first round as senior outside hitter Tina Rogers hammered a school-record 32 kills. The Illini ended the season 18-13, 14-6 in the Big Ten.

Senior middle blocker Kristin Henriksen won her third Big Ten hitting title, earning First-Team All-Big Ten honors along with Rogers, the Illinois leader in kills, aces, and digs.

Illinois won the NCAA attendance title for the second consecutive year, drawing 34,539 fans into Huff Hall for 13 home dates.

Illinois went 23-14 overall, 12-8 in the Big Ten to finish fourth. The Illini also qualified for its 10th-consecutive NCAA tournament appearance.

Freshman Erin Borske set a school record with nine 20-kill matches, combining with senior Julie Edwards for 978 kills and 705 digs. Borske became the third Illinois player to earn Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors. Edwards earned All-Big Ten and Second-Team All-Mideast Region honors after becoming just the second Fighting Illini student-athlete in school history with 500+ kills in a season.

Edwards led the Illini with 500 kills, hitting .287 and earning MVP honors. Edwards pounded 30 kills in a victory over William & Mary and was named Big Ten Player of the Week. Sophomore Melissa Neal was named the Sandy Scholtens Award winner.

It was a season of streaks as the Illini lost their first four matches to ranked teams, then rattled off 14 wins in their next 15 matches. The Illini then endured another four-match losing streak before winning eight of their next nine. The Illini lost four of their last five matches, including an NCAA tournament first-round loss to visiting Ball State.

Illinois drew 29,106 fans in 15 home dates, an average of 2,715 fans per match, to finish fifth in national attendance.

Mike Hebert entered his 13th, and what would turn out to be his final, year as head coach with one of the youngest and most unknown squads in Illini volleyball history. With only one senior on the roster, Illinois surprised many as it jumped out to a 9-0 start, the best for the Illini since 1985.

The Illini then lost four of their next five matches, including close 3-2 defeats against Penn State and Purdue, before rebounding to win its next seven matches. The streak wouldn't last, though, as the Illini dropped their next three road matches. After losing its home finale to Wisconsin, Illinois saw its NCAA tournament hopes slipping with two of its toughest road contests left against Ohio State and Penn State. But the Illini pulled off two brilliant upsets, beating No. 10 Penn State, 3-2, and taking care of No. 7 Ohio State, 3-1. It was only the second time in conference history that a team had defeated those two schools in their venues on successive days.

Illinois' late-season heroics paid off as it received a first-round bye in the NCAA tournament and faced Georgia in a second-round match at Huff Hall for the team's 11th-straight NCAA appearance. With a 3-1 defeat of Georgia, Illinois traveled to Gainesville, Fla., to face No. 6 Texas in the Mideast Regional Semifinal, falling to the Longhorns, 3-0.

The 1995 season belonged to sophomore Erin Borske, who earned First-Team AVCA All-America and All-Big Ten honors. Borske set Big Ten and Illinois records for most kills in a match (44 vs. Penn State, Sept. 23) and in a season (714). She had two 40-kill matches and a school-record nineteen 20-kill matches. Junior Carolien Dikhoff set a Big Ten and Illinois record for most assists in a season (1,770).

The Illini finished fourth in the national attendance race, drawing 32,856 fans into Huff Hall.

Don Hardin returned to Illinois as head coach and took over a young Illinois team that was trying to cope with the loss of All-Big Ten hitter Erin Borske and starting setter Carolien Dikhoff. The Fighting Illini remained competitive during the season despite having to rely greatly on eight underclassmen.

The Fighting Illini finished the non-conference schedule with a record of 5-3. The team won its second-straight Illini Classic title by defeating Southern Mississippi and Connecticut in the annual tourney. Mary Coleman was named the Classic's MVP.

The most emotional weekend of the nonconference slate occured a week prior to the Illini Classic, Sept. 13-14, when the team traveled to the Louisville Invitational to face Hardin's previous team, the 15th-ranked Cardinals. Despite the fact that setter Melissa Beitz had to sit out the tourney with mononucleosis, Illinois upset Louisville on its own court in a dramatic 3-0 sweep.

During the Big Ten season, Illinois remained competitive but was unable to pull out a win versus the higher-tier teams in the league. The Illini finished 8-12 in the conference and placed seventh.

Overall, Illinois ended the season with a record of 13-15. Senior captain Kelly Scherr was named First-Team All-Big Ten and the team's MVP. Illinois averaged 2,414 fans at each home game, which ranked as the fifth-best average in the nation.

After suffering the school's first losing season in 13 years in 1996, the 1997 Illini hoped to show that better times were ahead for the Illinois program. The team rebounded to post a 17-13 record and returned to the national rankings twice during the season.

Illinois still featured a young squad with only one senior, defensive specialist Heidi Coulter. Led by a group of five juniors and four sophomores, the Illini won their first eight matches of the season and ended the nonconference slate with a record of 9-1. The highlights of the nonconference schedule included tournament wins at the Virginia's Jefferson Cup and the Illini/Pepsi Classic. Illinois also upended No. 21 Arkansas, 3-0, at Huff Hall on Sept. 19.

The team had a tough time getting on track during the Big Ten season. After starting the conference schedule with three-straight road losses against ranked opponents, Illinois managed to move to the .500 mark in the league. Despite finishing with an 8-12 Big Ten record and finishing seventh in the league, Illinois ended the season on a strong note. The Illini won their last three matches of the season, all by 3-0 scorelines.

Illinois continued to draw well at the gate. The Illini averaged 1,962 fans per game, which ranked 10th in the nation.

Following the season, Illinois assistant coach Tarnisha Thompson retired and was replaced by Denise Baez. The entire squad traveled to The Netherlands over the summer and competed in several tournaments in late May and early June.

1998

Illinois began the 1998 season with a tough nonconference schedule, playing several NCAA tournament teams, including Ball State, Southeast Missouri State, Oral Roberts, Illinois State, Texas, Penn State, Arkansas, and Kansas State and went 7-3 in nonconference play.

The Fighting Illini moved into the national rankings the week of Sept. 18 after knocking off seventh-ranked Texas at The Chicago Challenge at Mother McAuley High School. Illinois pulled off a dramatic 3-2 victory to gain a No. 22 ranking, and remained in the top 25 for the rest of the season.

Illinois began Big Ten play by sweeping Michigan and No. 18 Michigan State on the road. Illinois also defeated No. 24 Indiana and Minnesota during the first half of the conference season to end with a terrific 8-2 league mark. One of the losses came in a thrilling 3-2 defeat at the hands of top-ranked Penn State at Huff Hall. The two sets were the first that PSU dropped all season, and the Illini sent the match to five after dropping the first two sets of the match.

Illinois finished the Big Ten season with consecutive wins over Iowa, Purdue, and Minnesota. The Illini finished fourth in the conference with a 13-7 Big Ten mark, enough to propel Illinois into the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1995. Illinois hosted sub-regional at Huff Hall and defeated Southwest Texas State and No. 17 Colorado to move on to the Sweet 16. Illinois faced No. 1 Long Beach State in the Mountain Regional Semifinals and fell to the eventual national champions, 3-0, to end the season.

The team went 22-11 with what was judged to be the nation's toughest schedule. Illinois finished 14th in the final national rankings. Several Illini were awarded postseason honors. Chapman was named Honorable Mention All-America, while junior setter Melissa Beitz was named AVCA All-District V and was an Academic All-Region pick. Chapman and Marshall were named First-Team All-Big Ten, while Beitz and sophomore Betsy Spicer were named Honorable Mention All-Big Ten.

The Illini entered the season ranked 14th in the nation, and played a tough non-conference schedule, which included matchups with UC-Santa Barbara, North Carolina, Illinois State, George Mason, Georgia, and Louisville. Illinois went 4-2 in non-conference play, with its fifth-straight State Farm Illini Classic title courtesy of a 3-0 victory over Georgia in the championship match. To help prepare for the rigor of the Big Ten, the Illini played a pair of exhibition matches against top-flight competition, facing the U.S. Pro Volleyball League team and the Dresdner Sports Club of Germany.

No. 25 Illinois carried a four-match winning streak into its conference opener against Indiana. A three-game sweep of the Hoosiers, followed by a 3-2 victory over Northwestern, improved the streak to six straight wins.

After a road loss to top-ranked Penn State, the Illini quickly bounced back with their best stretch of the Big Ten season. Illinois reeled off five-straight wins to improve to 7-1 in the conference and move as high as 20th in the national rankings. Included in that streak were victories at two of the league's most difficult places to play, Ohio State and Minnesota. The Illini defeated the Buckeyes in five sets and knocked off the 22nd-ranked Gophers in four. Illinois also garnered its first win in four seasons over Wisconsin, with the Orange and Blue upending the 18th-ranked Badgers in straight sets.

A tough stretch followed, and Illinois dropped five of its next six matches. But the final loss, a spirited and competitive four-set loss to Penn State, was just what the Illini needed to regain their rhythm.

The Orange and Blue closed out their Big Ten slate by winning four of their final six matches, highlighted by a pair of thrilling 3-2 road victories at Indiana and Michigan State. Illinois finished 12-8 in conference play, securing its second-straight fourth-place finish.

The Illini received an invitation to the NCAA tournament and were sent to Gainesville, Fla. Illinois won its first-round contest against Milwaukee in four sets to set up a showdown with No. 4 Florida. Illinois fought the Gators point-for-point the entire match but fell in five sets to end the season.

In the end, Illinois finished with a 17-11 record and ranked 26th in the country. Middle blocker Betsy Spicer received First Team All-Big Ten honors, as well as First Team All-District 2 honors by the AVCA. Setter Melissa Beitz broke the Illini's all-time career assists record, finishing with 5,797, and outside hitter Tracey Marshall became the school's all-time career digs leader, totaling 1,426 over four years.

Betsy Spicer, a 2000 All-Big Ten performer, helped the Illini to the 1998 Sweet 16.

The year 2000 began with high expectations for the Fighting Illini volleyball program. Illinois entered the season ranked 29th in the nation in the AVCA preseason poll. After a successful nonconference season, a rash of injuries hit the squad, and head coach Don Hardin was left juggling the lineup from match to match. Five-set matches became the norm as the young Illini fought through the ultra-competitive Big Ten slate.

The Illini compiled an impressive 9-2 record in nonconference matches. Betsy Spicer earned two Big Ten Player of the Week honors, and the Illini won their sixth-straight Illini Classic tournament championship, fighting back from an 0-2 deficit to defeat Ball State in the title match.

After losing three starters due to injury, the Illini went 4-16 in Big Ten play. All four of Illinois' victories in conference play – Purdue, Northwestern, Michigan State and Iowa – lasted five sets. Overall, 11 of Illinois' 31 matches on the season went to the fifth and deciding set, with the Illini posting an impressive record of 7-4 in five-set contests.

Senior Betsy Spicer accumulated a number of postseason awards and honors, including the Big Ten title in attack percentage, hitting .398 on the year. She was a unanimous selection to the All-Big Ten team, while also garnering All-Region and Honorable-Mention All-America honors. Spicer was also named Illinois' female Big Ten Medal of Honor recipient.

The 2001 season got off to a promising start as the Illini cruised through the nonconference schedule with a 7-1 record. After winning the first six matches of the season in impressive fashion, the Illini were dealt their first loss of the year by No. 11 Florida.

Following tough road losses at No. 15 Ohio State and No. 6 Penn State and wins over Northwestern and Iowa, Illinois traveled to Minneapolis to take on No. 21 Minnesota. After dropping the first two sets to the Golden Gophers, the Illini rallied to take the next two but narrowly dropped the match with a 15-13 loss in the fifth.

Following the five-set heartbreaker, the Illini reeled off seven straight victories and won 11 of their next 13 matches to work their way near the top of the conference. Included in that seven-match stretch were six wins over Big Ten foes that helped elevate the Illini from eighth in the Big Ten standings up to third, also marking Illinois' longest winning streak since 1997.

Following a loss at eventual Big Ten champion Wisconsin, Illinois regained its winning ways by taking five of its final seven conference matches, including a dramatic come-from-behind win over No. 13 Penn State, its first victory over the Nittany Lions since 1995. The Illini wrapped up the regular season tied for fourth in the Big Ten with a 13-7 record.

For their efforts, head coach Don Hardin was selected as Big Ten Coach of the Year, and senior Shadia Haddad was named the Big Ten's Defensive Player of the Year. Haddad and sophomore Lisa Argabright were named to the All-Big Ten Team, while Argabright also earned All-Region honors.

Illinois defeated Missouri, 3-1, at Huff in the first round of the NCAA tournament, before Illinois' remarkable season came to an end in round two at the hands of No. 4 Arizona.

The Illini ended the 2001 season with a record of 21-9 and ranked No. 20 in the nation in the final AVCA/USA Today Coaches' Poll.

Illinois opened the 2002 season with a 6-3 nonconference record, including capturing its 13th State Farm Illini Classic title with 3-0 victories over Arkansas State and Connecticut. The title match was a memorable one as Don Hardin collected his 300th career victory.

Illinois opened Big Ten play with a four-match homestand at Huff Hall. Things did not start out as planned, however, as the Illini fell in five sets to in-state rival Northwestern. The Illini rebounded quickly, though, wiping away the disappointment the next night with an impressive victory over the 13th-ranked and two-time defending Big Ten champion Wisconsin Badgers. The Illini then defeated Purdue in four sets before losing to No. 9 Penn State.

Illinois' first road trip of the conference slate began with a 3-1 loss at Iowa. But, just as the team rebounded two weeks earlier after a Friday loss, the Illini surged back with their best performance of the season one night later with a win at No. 6 Minnesota. Illinois fought back from behind to win in a five-set thriller and handed the Gophers their first loss in conference play. The win marked the highest-ranked opponent that the Illini had defeated in Don Hardin's tenure as head coach.

Adversity followed, however, as the Illini dropped a pair of heartbreaking five-set matches to Indiana and Ohio State.

Illinois went 4-10 in the second half of the season, to finish 13-16 overall and 7-13 in Big Ten play. The Illini ended the year on a high note, closing the season with a 3-1 victory at Indiana.

2003

Illinois completed its best season since 1992, qualifying for its ninth Sweet 16 and 15th NCAA tournament.

honorable mention selection.

The Illini rolled to two tournament titles, including their 14th State Farm Illini Classic victory by sweeping Wake Forest.

Illinois played the first two weekends of the conference race on the road, then opened the home schedule in dramatic fashion with a dominant win over No. 11 Penn State. That began a string of 12 victories in 14 matches, giving Illinois a chance at the Big Ten title heading into the final weekend of the season. The highlight of that stretch was a come-from-behind victory over No. 20 Minnesota on Nov. 7. Minnesota held three match points in set four, before a Jessica Belter kill closed out the set, 34-32. Illinois won game five, 15-13. Outside hitter Rachel VanMeter, who paced the way with 25 kills, exploded for the kill on match point.

Belter gave the Illini a tremendous individual performance the weekend of Oct. 17-18, hitting .737 with 16 kills vs. Michigan State before registering 12 kills and 11 digs while hitting .417 and recording eight blocks vs. Michigan. This earned Belter AVCA National Player of the Week honors.

Illinois spent three weeks of the regular season in the Top 25, reaching 18th in the last week of the season. The respect for Illinois led to a No. 15 national seed in the NCAA Tournament and the ability to host the First and Second Rounds at Huff. The Illini swept Murray State and Louisville, giving Illinois a shot at playing at No. 2 Hawaii in the Regional Semifinal. The hosts won, 3-0, but Illinois was competitive in falling 33-31 in game three. Illinois finished the season ranked No. 15 in the nation and No. 14 in attendance (1,598).

Illinois was one of the top stories of the first half of the volleyball season, during which the Illini halted top-ranked USC's NCAA record 52-match winning streak with a 30-24, 24-30, 12-30, 30-27, 15-8 victory in front of over 3,000 fans at Huff Hall in the title match of the State Farm Illini Classic. After that week, Illinois reached the top 10 for the first time since 1993, checking in at No. 9.

The season had its ups and downs. On the positive side, the Illini were "streak busters." In addition to the USC victory, Illinois knocked off Ohio State, which entered the Oct. 23 match at Huff 19-0 as the lone unbeaten team in Division I. Then, on Nov. 6, the Illini swept Wisconsin, which was the hottest team in the Big Ten at the time with an eight-match win streak.

Attendance was a story again. Illinois drew 22,890 fans to Huff Hall, an average of 1,761 per match, ranking 10th nationally.

Don Hardin posted career victory No. 350 in the 30-27, 30-20, 32-30 win over Wisconsin. Senior Jessica Belter earned Big Ten Player of the Week honors after dominating performances vs. Michigan and Michigan State for the second straight year. For the week, Belter had 43 kills and hit a combined .567.

Two Illini were named All-Big Ten, Belter (first team) and junior Rachel VanMeter (honorable mention), while middle blocker Jen Hynds garnered All-Big Ten Freshman Team accolades. Belter was named Honorable Mention All-America.

Despite some key wins, injuries to Jen Hynds, who missed eight games in mid-September, and to setter Erin Virtue, an Honorable Mention All-American in 2003 and Pre-Season All-Big Ten honoree in 2004, hindered the Illini's performance. Virtue's season-ending knee injury on Sept. 17 transferred the setting duties to freshman Stephanie Obermeier.

The Illini qualified for its 16th NCAA Tournament but were knocked out by Louisville in the first round.

Despite suffering through another injury- and illness-riddled season, the Illini managed to complete their 19th winning season in 22 years at 16-15. Illinois finished strong, winning three of its final four matches.

Senior Rachel VanMeter, one of five players chosen All-Big Ten unanimously, had a record-setting season, breaking the Illini record for attacks in a match (99), season (1,786), and career (4,462). VanMeter also ranked fourth in the nation in kills per game (5.79).

VanMeter's success started from the opening match of the year, when she set a Redbird Arena record with 39 kills in a five-set victory over Illinois State, earning her Big Ten Player of the Week honors. VanMeter was named MVP as the Illini won the Northern Illinois Tournament.

Illinois had two big victories over top-25 teams, but none bigger than a five-set win at No. 16 Ohio State. The Illini trailed two sets to none and 22-20 in set three before rebounding for the win. In the final month of the Big Ten season, Illinois downed No. 18 Purdue, 3-2. VanMeter earned Big Ten Player of the Week honors for her 39 kills, while junior libero Beth Vrdsky tallied 31 digs to become Illinois' first Big Ten Defensive Player of the Week. Vrdsky set the Illinois single-season digs record with 520 for the year.

The season began in exciting fashion with a 3-1 victory over Illinois State in front of the largest home crowd in over a decade. The first-annual "Stuff Huff" promotion drew 3,129 fans in August.

The Illini posted a 9-1 mark in nonconference matches, but struggled in Big Ten play, going 6-14 in the conference and 15-15 on the year.

Junior middle blocker Vicki Brown, an Honorable Mention All-Big Ten selection, was the story of the nonconference season, earning MVP honors of the State Farm Illini Classic and the Marquette Kick-Off Tournament. Brown belted 45 kills and hit .413 in the Illini Classic, hitting for a .625 clip in a 3-0 victory over Milwaukee.

Freshman Ashley Edinger stepped into the libero spot, posting 488 digs, second all-time in Illinois history. Kylie McCulley, playing for the injured Kayani Turner, was impressive in her debut as a starter, tallying 19 kills in a competitive match with No. 2 Penn State. Illinois had a pair of set points in sets one and three before falling 34-32, 30-23, 32-30.

Lizzie Bazzetta ranked sixth in the nation in assists per set at 13.54. Edinger and Bazzetta earned Big Ten Defensive Player of the Week honors throughout the season, both coming after matches with Northwestern and Iowa.

Paced by 19 kills and a .459 attack percentage from an ailing Turner, Illinois downed No. 16 Ohio State, 3-0. Senior Meghan Macdonald broke the Illinois single-set attack percentage record by hitting a perfect 1.000 with 12 kills in a 3-1 win over Indiana on Senior Weekend.

Illinois posted its 20th winning season in 24 years. The Illini defeated a ranked team for the seventh straight season and took eventual national champion Penn State to five sets, all while breaking in a new, yet talented, freshman class.

Still, the 2007 season was remembered for how close the Illini came to placing in the top three in the Big Ten and returning to the NCAA Tournament. Illinois finished the season 16-14, with nine of those losses coming in five sets and another in four to No. 9 Wisconsin after the Illini took the opening set 41-39, a record for the longest set in school history.

Laura DeBruler's performance headlined a strong start from the nation's sixth-ranked recruiting class. DeBruler led all freshmen nationally (22nd overall) in kills per game at 4.89.

No player, not even national Player of the Year Mary Eggers, had double figures in kills in an Illinois debut. DeBruler, however, exploded for 28 in a four-set win over Bowling Green in the season opener. She was named Big Ten Player of the Week twice.

Vicki Brown eclipsed the 1,000-kill mark for her career. Sophomore Ashley Edinger set the single-season digs mark with 564.

The roller coaster season ended on a high as head coach Don Hardin won his 400th match in a three-set win over Iowa. Earlier in the year, Hardin won his 200th at Illinois.

2008

The Illini showed marked improvement in 2008, going 26-8 and finishing third in the Big Ten with a 15-5 record, while ending the season with a return to NCAA Regionals.

Illinois went 9-2 in nonconference play, highlighted by an early win over No. 11 Oregon. After the Ducks dominated the first two sets, 25-14 and 25-16, in the championship match of the State Farm Illini Classic, fans got a glimpse of just how good Laura DeBruler could be. The somewhat undersized sophomore came up big with 22 kills in the final three sets, as Illinois rallied from a 19-14 deficit in the fourth set and took set five, 15-13, in dramatic fashion.

DeBruler was named National Player of the Week for her efforts and also earned the first of three Big Ten Player of the Week honors on the season.

Thanks to a lot of hard work by returnees and the emergence of freshman Michelle Bartsch, the Illini became a force on the block. Bartsch had 134 blocks, which ranked 10th in the Big Ten, en route to Big Ten and Mideast Region Freshman of the Year accolades.

Middle blocker Johannah Bangert, a two-time Big Ten Player of the Week, was at the heart of the blocking success, leading not only the conference, but also the nation with 1.60 blocks per set. With fans counting down each dig, Ashley Edinger set the Illinois career digs record on Nov. 1 against Ohio State, finishing her junior year with 1,614.

The Illini won 16 of the final 19, following a hiccup against Northwestern. Ten of those 16 wins come in three sets, as Illinois made its case for a national seed and home-court advantage in the NCAA Tournament.

Earning the No. 9 national seed and hosting first- and second-round matches for the third time that decade, Illinois defeated Milwaukee and Cincinnati on its home court in the first two rounds to punch a ticket to the school's first Sweet 16 appearance since 2003. Hardin announced his retirement from coaching in the week leading up to the tournament, and fans came out not only to push the Illini past the first two rounds, but also to express appreciation for all Hardin meant to the Illini in his career.

Although California downed Illinois in three sets in the next round, all three sets came down to the wire, with the Bears winning 25-22 each time. DeBruler was named All-Regional Tournament and later became Illinois' first All-American in four seasons.

Kevin Hambly took over as the seventh head coach in program history. Illinois continued its success in 2009, posting the fifth-best winning percentage in school history at 26-6. The Illini finished in sole possession of second place in the Big Ten, recording a 16-4 conference mark, and reached the round of 16 for the second year in a row and 11th time overall.

Illinois emerged as a top-five team in the country, earning the No. 5 seed in the NCAA Tournament while spending eight straight weeks in the top 10 in the AVCA coaches' poll. Illinois finished the year at No. 10.

The Illini posted five victories over ranked opponents and twice defeated the No. 6-ranked team in the country, a five-set thriller at Michigan and a three-set sweep of Minnesota, a Final Four team, at State Farm Center. The Minnesota victory came in front of a school-record 7,632 fans.

Junior Laura DeBruler became just the fourth First Team All-American in school history, following her second-team honor in 2008. DeBruler ranked 15th in the nation in kills and 14th nationally in points (4.96).

Illinois again had success through the block. Junior Johannah Bangert led the nation in blocks for the second-straight year at 1.58 per set. Her 179 total blocks were third-best in school history. Sophomore Michelle Bartsch (128) and freshman middle blocker Erin Johnson (104) also surpassed 100 blocks in the season as the Illini ranked 18th nationally.

Hillary Haen, who ranked 16th nationally in assists. Bartsch garnered All-Big Ten Honorable Mention accolades, while Johnson was named to the Big Ten All-Freshman team.

Illinois went 14-1 at home and claimed its 19th State Farm Illini Classic title. In the middle of the season, the Illini rattled off 11 straight victories, including wins over No. 6 Minnesota and No. 15 Michigan.

During that run, the team lost senior libero Ashley Edinger for the season. Edinger finished her career with 1,921 digs, the most by an Illini by nearly 500, and ninth-most in Big Ten history. Sophomore Rachel Feldman took over for Edinger and had 19 digs while successfully returning all 41 serves sent her way in her debut vs. Michigan. Feldman had 26 digs vs. Dayton, the most at the time by an Illini in an NCAA match.

Illinois also stood out in the classroom, with eight players earning Academic All-Big Ten and three honored as Academic All-District—Bangert, Haen and DeBruler.

Illinois continued to firmly cement itself as a national contender in 2010. The Illini defeated a pair of top-five teams, including eventual national champion Penn State, and reached as high as No. 3 in the national poll.

The season was also remembered for its share of adversity. Both Laura DeBruler and Erin Johnson missed time, while highly touted freshman Anna Dorn suffered an ACL tear during the second week of the season. The the biggest blow, though, came on Oct. 9, when 2009 First Team All-American DeBruler was lost for the season, also with an ACL tear.

The Illini began the year as good as any team in the country. On Sept. 3, the Illini swept No. 2 Texas to end the Longhorns' 25-match home-court winning streak. Michelle Bartsch was named the Time Warner Cable Invitational MVP after hitting .514 in leading the Illini to wins over Texas and Florida A&M.

The Illini ended the weekend with a win over eventual NCAA qualifier Louisville, and DeBruler returned the following weekend against three-time reigning national champion No. 2 Penn State.

With over 4,100 fans filling Huff for the first sellout in 18 years, the Illini posted a thrilling five-set victory over the Nittany Lions, ending their record 65-match Big Ten winning streak on Sept. 24.

Illinois opened Big Ten play at 12-1, holding the top spot of the standings for the first eight weeks of the season. The Illini's sole loss came at Michigan, where DeBruler suffered the ACL tear, but the Illini took down the No. 15 Wolverines in their rematch at Huff Hall on Oct. 29. During the stretch, Illinois also defeated No. 20 Minnesota and No. 25 Northwestern.

Sitting at 20-3 at the start of November, Illinois dropped five of its last seven conference matches, the most devastating coming in the rematch with Minnesota. The Illini led two sets to one and 24-20 in the fourth set, but the Gophers scored 13 of the next 14 points to take the match in five sets.

Illinois saw the NCAA Tournament as a fresh start. On the heels of six wins over ranked opponents, including two in the top five, Illinois received the No. 8 national seed and a pair of home matches. The Illini defeated Austin Peay in three sets in round one, then won the rematch with No. 21 Cincinnati in four sets in the second round to advance to their third-straight regional semifinal, setting up another rematch – this time with ninth-seeded Texas in Austin.

Junior Colleen Ward led the NCAA tournament with 44 kills in the first two matches. Against Texas, it was freshman Jazmine Orozco who led the way with 21 kills, but the hosts battled back from down 2-1 to eliminate the Illini in five sets.

Three Illini earned All-America honors: Ward on the second team and Bartsch and senior setter Hillary Haen on the third team.

The year saw several milestones. DeBruler became Illinois' all-time kills leader, passing Illini legend Mary Eggers at Wisconsin and finishing her injury-shortened career with 1,833.

Johannah Bangert set a new Illinois record for blocks, finishing with 653 for her career, which was also seventh in Big Ten history. In the final match of the year, Bangert set an all-time conference mark for block assists with 613, breaking the old mark by one. Bangert also became Illinois' first First Team Academic All-American since 1990.

Freshman libero Jennifer Bonilla (later Jennifer Beltran), an Honorable Mention All-Mideast Region selection, set a new single-season school record for digs with 623. Haen moved into fourth on Illinois' all-time assists list with 3,956, while finishing her career eighth on the single-season assist list with 1,471.

2011

A national ESPN2 audience witnessed perhaps the greatest rally the game has ever seen in match point of the national semifinal between Illinois and USC. The Illini and Women of Troy take turns took shots at each other. Some 55 touches, 18 over-the-net volleys, and 68 seconds of electric play later, the Illini completed a five-set win over the nation's top-ranked team and earned a spot in the national championship match. The point got a spot on SportsCenter's "Top 10 Plays" that night and continued to have fans talking about it.

The point was the pinnacle of a historic season for Illinois, breaking a number of barriers.

The Illini begin the year 20-0, the second-most wins to start a season in school history. It resulted in the school's first No. 1 ranking in the AVCA Coaches poll. The wide-open national race was reflected in six different teams reaching the top spot, but none held it as long as Illinois (four weeks).

For the first time since 1992, Illinois played two home matches in front of near-capacity crowds of 4,000-plus.

In Illinois' first weekend at number one, a sellout crowd of 4,261 saw a battle of the last two unbeaten in Illinois and Purdue, and the Illini eked out a tight four-set victory over the Boilermakers.

For much of Penn State's 20 years in the Big Ten, the conference championship went through Happy Valley, but for the first time ever, Illinois swept the season series against the Nittany Lions.

If the battle with USC was the defining match of the postseason, the first meeting with Penn State was that for the 2011 regular season. Over 5,200 fans watched the match, which lasted nearly three hours and, in the end, the visiting Illini came away with an epic five-set victory.

Illinois boasted perhaps the best outside hitting combination in the country in seniors Colleen Ward, who became Illinois' fifth First-Team All-American, and Michelle Bartsch, who earned third-team All-America honors for the second-straight year.

In reality, though, several members of the team took turns taking center stage throughout the year. Redshirt freshman Anna Dorn did so against Penn State, with four blocks in each of the fourth and fifth sets, tying an Illinois record with 13 block assists in the match.

Bartsch helped the Illini get off to a hot start to the season, winning MVP of three in-season tournaments, including the State Farm Illini Classic, which saw the Illini battle back from two sets down to defeat 21st-ranked Dayton, one of six five-set victories during the 20-0 start.

Illinois had the top-ranked RPI the entire season, thanks in large part to a challenging schedule. Illinois won a school-record 11 matches against ranked opponents, playing 15 matches against top-25 clubs as well as 27 matches against 19 NCAA qualifying teams.

Bartsch and fellow senior Rachel Feldman helped the Illini post a 57-6 record at Huff Hall in their four years, including a 16-1 mark in 2011, which saw 42,068 come through the doors at the historic arena, the second-most in school history.

Illinois earned the No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament and started its run to the Final Four with convincing straight-set wins over Central Michigan and Marquette at Huff, bringing the Illini's all-time postseason home record to 22-3.

For the second-straight year, six Big Ten teams made the round of 16, and three of them converged at the Gainesville, Fla., Regional. The Illini met Ohio State in the Regional Semifinal, a round that had been a roadblock for Illinois each of the past three seasons. After dropping the first set, Illinois won a fierce battle with the Buckeyes.

Jennifer Beltran, whose 571 digs in 2011 were second in Illini history only to her 623 output from 2010, had perhaps her best effort as a collegian with 26 digs vs. the Buckeyes. Beltran later set a new Illinois postseason mark with 32 in the national semifinal win over USC.

Illinois would not be denied in its quest for its first Final Four appearance in 23 years. Facing the host Florida Gators in the Regional Final, the Illini posted a four-set win behind a career match from Ward. The former Gator had 23 kills on 42 swings, hitting .500 and earning the Regional MVP. Bartsch and Beltran joined Ward on the All-Regional tournament team.

While the Final Four meeting with USC may best be remembered nationally for the final point, the match had some of the best volleyball on display the entire night. Freshman Liz McMahon, whose 6-6 frame on the right side helped provide a huge blocking presence all year, had five kills on eight swings in the fifth set alone to help the Orange and Blue advance to the title match.

For just the second time in school history, two different players contributed 20-20 performances against USC. Ward paved the way with 27 kills on 71 swings, the second-most by an Illini player in a postseason match. She added a career-best 22 digs, while Bartsch had 22 kills and 22 digs.

Junior setter Annie Luhrsen helped engineer a high-powered Illinois offense down the stretch of the season and joined Ward and Bartsch on the all-tournament team for the NCAA Finals. Under Luhrsen's guidance, Illinois hit over .300 in seven of the 10 matches leading up to the Final Four, including .340 in a three-set win over Penn State and a .338 clip in the Regional Final win over Florida.

The championship match was nearly as riveting as the semifinals, as the Illini came back from down 20-13 in the second set to tie the match, 1-1. The Illini had two set points in the third, but UCLA scored the final four points of the set and went on to claim the NCAA title in four sets.

The loss didn't overshadow the list of accomplishments for Illinois, which finished a school-best second in the final coaches' poll. The Big Ten honored Bartsch and Ward as all-conference, and McMahon on the Big Ten All-Freshman Team. Erin Johnson, who led the Illini in attack percentage (.328), joined Luhrsen and Dorn in earning Big Ten Defensive Player of the Week throughout the year.

The Illini had a tough challenge in 2012, as a young team set out to follow the most successful season in program history. Faced with the task of replacing All-American outside hitters Michelle Bartsch and Colleen Ward, redshirt freshmen Jocelynn Birks and Ali Stark stepped up in the front row. Birks accepted the challenge and burst onto the scene in the season opener, registering the second-most kills in an Illini debut with 16 at Dayton.

On Aug. 31, the Illini hosted Iowa State in the first night of a two-match series. 3,770 Illini fans stuffed Huff to represent the largest opening-night crowd in program history, as the packed house witnessed the NCAA Runner-Up banner-raising ceremony and a 3-0 sweep of the No. 15 Cyclones.

Birks solidified her role in the final pre-conference tournament, as she led the Time Warner Cable Texas Invitational with 60 kills in three matches en route to earning MVP honors. After opening the year 3-4, the Illini seemed to put it all together in Austin, as the Orange and Blue took down No. 6 Texas, 3-2, then defeated UCF and Cincinnati to claim the tournament title. Following the loss, Texas won 17-straight regular-season matches and the 2012 NCAA Championship.

The Illini opened Big Ten play with a tough loss to No. 12 Minnesota, but bounced back to win the next two matches over Wisconsin and Indiana. However, a difficult five-set loss at Purdue began a four-match skid, as the Illini dropped eight of the next 10 matches and dropped out of the rankings for the first time since 2008.

Six days after falling in five to Purdue, Illini gave up a 2-0 lead against No. 19 Ohio State at home. The heartbreak continued the following night, as Illinois led 14-10 in the fifth set over No. 1 Penn State but squandered four-straight match points and dropped the set, 18-16.

Heartbreak once again continued, as Michigan State battled back from down 2-0 on Nov. 16 to top Illinois at home, ensuring the Illini's first losing season in 10 years and rendering the Orange and Blue ineligible for postseason play.

With the NCAA tournament off the table, the disappointed Illini were determined to finish the year on a high note. Illinois closed the home slate with a 3-1 victory over Michigan – who would not lose another match until the Final Four – behind Jessica Jendryk's first-career start on her Senior Day.

Putting on a show to the end, Birks earned three Big Ten Freshman of the Week honors during the month of November, setting a new Illinois record with four freshmen and five total weekly conference honors.

Even though Illinois turned in a 14-16 record and placed eighth in the Big Ten with an 8-12 performance, the Illini averaged the second-most fans in program history at 2,809 per match, ranking ninth in the nation.

Birks finished the season 10th all-time with 510 kills and sixth with 1,458 attacks, while placing in the top five nationally among freshmen in both categories. Dorn's .383 hitting percentage ranked ninth all-time. Beltran moved into second with 1,694 career digs, Johnson finished third in career block assists (445), and Luhrsen placed eighth with 2,806 career assists.

Following the season, McMahon was honored as an All-Big Ten selection, while Birks earned an all-conference honorable mention nod and a spot on the Big Ten All-Freshman team.

Illinois rebounded in 2013, returning to the NCAA Regional Semifinal for the 15th time in program history and hosting the Regional for the first time at State Farm Center.

Jennifer Beltran became the first Illini to 2,000 career digs, finishing second in Big Ten history.

The Illini faithful came out in droves to support the Orange and Blue, as Illinois broke its all-time record, set in 1992, by averaging 3,117 fans per match (ninth in the nation), with the help of a crowd of 7,061 at Illinois' 3-0 sweep of Iowa at State Farm Center.

Illinois finished fourth in the Big Ten, which established itself as the strongest conference in the nation with an NCAA-record seven teams advancing to NCAA Regionals and conference member Penn State defeating fellow Big Ten foe Wisconsin in the National Championship. The Orange and Blue also faced one of the most difficult nonconference slates in NCAA history, as all nine opponents were listed in the AVCA poll the week of competition, including hosting top-10 teams Washington and Texas, who both advanced to the Final Four.

In total, Illinois played 22 matches against ranked opponents, shattering the previous record of 15 and marking the most in the NCAA since Stanford faced 23 in 1996, the only program ever to take on more than 22 in a single season.

Illinois opened the year by claiming the Long Beach State Mizuno Invitational title behind the debut of redshirt freshman middle blocker Maddie Mayers, who won her first of two Big Ten Freshman of the Week honors after leading Illinois to victories over No. 18 Florida State and No. 17 Kentucky. Illinois picked up a win over No. 11 Iowa State, then saw Kevin Hambly earn his 100th victory with a nail-biter over Arizona State in five. The Illini struggled at the close of nonconference play, dropping the final four matches, all to teams in the AVCA poll, to enter a daunting Big Ten slate at 4-6.

The Orange and Blue split each of the first six weekends of Big Ten play, but to be eligible for a postseason berth, the Illini needed to win at least five of their final eight matches. Illinois stepped up to the challenge, rattling off a six-match winning streak, including a comeback win over No. 17 Michigan after falling behind 2-0 and a 3-0 sweep of No. 18 Purdue, finishing the year on a 7-2 run to punch a ticket back to the postseason.

The NCAA committee rewarded the Illini for their difficult slate by awarding them the No. 13 seed and the opportunity to host every match until the Final Four, should they advance that far. Illinois swept Morehead State, then topped No. 22 Marquette at Huff Hall, to reach its 15th NCAA Regional.

Despite falling in three to the Illini less than a month earlier, Purdue rebounded to top Illinois, 3-0, at State Farm Center to halt the Illini at the Sweet 16 once again.

On Oct. 12, libero Jennifer Beltran became Illinois' all-time career digs leader, finishing her career ranked second in Big Ten history with 2,220 digs. She earned All-Region honors along with All-America Honorable Mention accolades.

Birks posted her second-straight 500-kill season and was named a unanimous All-Big Ten, All-Region, and Third Team All-America honoree, while Liz McMahon earned honorable mention All-Region and All-Big Ten recognition.

Illinois made history in 2014, taking down titans as the Fighting Illini became the first team in 23 years and third ever to defeat powerhouses Penn State and Nebraska on their home courts in the same season—and they did it on consecutive Saturdays. The win at Penn State ended up marking the third time in five years that the Illini would defeat the eventual national champion, while Illinois returned from Lincoln victorious for the first time since 1989.

The Orange and Blue returned a veteran squad in 2014, needing to replace just one regular player, and despite big shoes to fill, true freshman Brandi Donnelly made an immediate splash at libero.

Illinois opened the year with sweeps of Long Beach State, Southern Illinois, and No. 20 North Carolina to win the Illini Classic, then took No. 2 Stanford down to the wire in an exhilarating five-set loss. The Illini finished nonconference play at 8-3, then began Big Ten play at home against the newest members of the conference, Maryland and Rutgers.

A high-powered sweep of No. 18 Minnesota on BTN ran the Illini's set streak to 18 straight wins at home before No. 6 Wisconsin spoiled the run with a 3-1 victory in front of a Huff Hall-record 4,536 fans, an official sellout.

A disappointing five-set loss in Columbus had Hambly switch from a 6-2 to a 5-1 setter rotation, and Alexis Viliunas then led the offense to an unprecedented four-set victory at No. 5 Penn State. The following two Saturdays, Illinois topped No. 13 Nebraska and No. 13 Purdue, with the Big Ten title still within reach. A disappointing loss at Northwestern essentially ended the Illini's title hopes, but Illinois finished third in the Big Ten at 16-4, which tied for the best conference record during Hambly's tenure.

Illinois earned the No. 9 seed in the NCAA Tournament and swept Murray State and Iowa State at home to advance to its 16th Regional. The Illini's season once again came to an end in the Sweet 16, as Florida narrowly defeated Illinois in an epic 8-9 match with a 16-14 decision in set five.

Illini fans recorded the second-straight 3,000+ crowd average, once again ranking ninth in the nation in fans per match.

Several Illini earned honors throughout the season, taking home eight Big Ten weekly honors, including three Big Ten Freshman of the Week awards for Brandi Donnelly, two Defensive Player of the Week honors for Katie Stadick, and a pair of Player of the Week nods.

Jocelynn Birks received her second-straight unanimous All-Big Ten selection, leading the Big Ten in nearly every offensive category, and she was tabbed a Second Team All-American. Liz McMahon became the first Illini in any sport to win the Senior CLASS Award, was an All-America Honorable Mention, and earned the Big Ten Medal of Honor. Anna Dorn was the first Illini ever to earn three First-Team Academic All-District honors, and finished her career with a Second Team Academic All-America nod. Donnelly's breakout season earned her a spot on the Big Ten All-Freshman Team and the title of Fighting Illini Newcomer of the Year.

Illinois continued its Round of 16 success in 2015, making its third-straight NCAA Regional appearance following an up-and-down regular season.

The Illini dealt with the departure of a talented senior class – including Senior CLASS Award winner Liz McMahon and Capital One Academic All-America Second-Team honoree Anna Dorn – but had four starters returning along with sophomore libero Brandi Donnelly, who had started every match in her Orange and Blue career.

After hosting the Illini Classic to open the 2015 campaign, Illinois volleyball set out for six road trips over five weeks, before finally returning to play at Huff Hall on Oct. 9. UI hit the road for the Big Ten/Pac-12 Challenge hosted by Penn State. The following weekend, the Orange and Blue headed to Wichita, Kansas, for the Shocker Volleyball Classic. Illinois then competed at the Sun Devil Invitational, hosted by then-No. 10 Arizona State, before starting Big Ten play at Maryland and Rutgers. The Illini then continued league play at Wisconsin and Minnesota, ranked No. 19 and 16, respectively, at the time of the matches.

Despite the travel schedule, the Illini finished the nonconference slate with an 11-3 record, including wins over Louisville, Creighton, Colorado, and Kentucky.

Jocelynn Birks posted three consecutive 500-kill seasons in 2012-2014.

The Illini opened Big Ten play with back-to-back road wins over Maryland and Rutgers, before dropping hard-fought matches at Wisconsin and Minnesota, the latter match a five-setter that saw senior Jocelynn Birks become the program's career attacks leader.

Birks continued her record-breaking campaign against Nebraska on Oct. 17 as she became the 12th Illini to register 1,000 digs in her career, and then on Nov. 7, the senior broke the all-time kills record previously held by All-American Laura DeBruler and finished with a program-record 5,656 kills in her career.

The Illini reached other milestones during the 2015 season, including a 3-0 sweep of Colorado on Sept. 5, marking the 900th victory in program history, before head coach Kevin Hambly recorded his 150th win at the helm of the Illini with a 3-0 sweep of Maryland on Sept. 25.

Entering the NCAA Tournament after a disappointing conclusion to Big Ten play, the Illini looked to make some postseason noise. For the first time in a number of years, Illinois traveled for the first and second rounds and headed to Louisville, Ky., to take on SIU and host Louisville.

After fending off a spirited Southern Illinois team in three sets in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, the Fighting Illini volleyball team booked a trip to the NCAA Regionals for the seventh time in eight years with a hard-fought four-set victory over No. 15 seed and host Louisville in the second round.

Birks had a standout performance as she came within two kills of tying her career-high with a season-high 26 kills on 54 swings and only three errors for a hitting percentage of .426, while adding 10 digs for her 14th double-double of the season and the 56th of her career.

A familiar foe awaited Illini in the NCAA Regional semifinals in second-seeded Minnesota, who ended Illinois' 2015 campaign with a three-set win in Des Moines, Iowa. It was back-and-forth in the first two sets before the Gophers ultimately took control in the third and decisive set.

Illini fans recorded the third-straight 3,000+ crowd average, once again ranking sixth in the nation in fans per match.

Several Illini earned honors throughout the season, taking home eight Big Ten weekly honors, including two Big Ten Freshman of the Week awards for Jordyn Poulter and one for Ali Bastianelli, two Defensive Player of the Week honors for Brandi Donnelly and one for Bastianelli, as well as a Setter of the Week accolade for Poulter and a Player of the Week nod for Michelle Strizak.

Jocelynn Birks received her third-straight All-Big Ten honors and was tabbed an honorable mention AVCA All-American. Poulter and Bastianelli's strong play in their rookie seasons earned them a spot on the Big Ten All-Freshman Team. To cap the year, Birks was named the Dike Eddleman Female Athlete of the Year, while Poulter was tabbed Fighting Illini Female Newcomer of the Year.

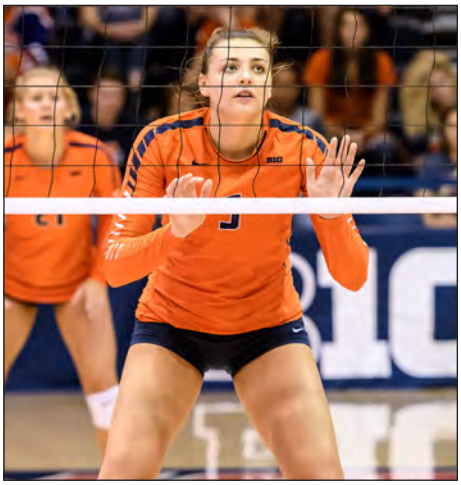
It was an up-and-down season for Illinois, opening the campaign with its 24th Illini Classic title – this time winning in tiebreaker fashion over Missouri State.

From there, the Illini hit the road for their next three tournaments, falling in a pair of five-set thrillers against then-No. 9 Stanford and Colorado at the Big Ten/Pac-12 Challenge in Boulder, Colo., before bouncing back with winning records at the Nike Invitational in Eugene, Ore., and the Billiken Invitational in St. Louis, Mo. The Illini finished the nonconference schedule with a 7-4 record.

The Illini then opened the Big Ten slate off in impressive fashion, defeating then-No. 10 Purdue, 3-2, in West Lafayette for their sixth-straight win and the first victory at Purdue since 2009.

From there, it was back-and-forth for the Illini, earning three-straight wins over then-No. 14 Michigan State, Northwestern, and Indiana, before going on a seven-game skid late in the season.

Illinois recovered to win three of its last four matches, including a four-set victory over then-No. 24 Ohio State on Senior Night, but it would not be enough to put the Illini in the NCAA Tournament.



Ali Bastianelli set the program record for career total blocks.

Individually, sophomores Ali Bastianelli and Jordyn Poulter, along with junior Brandi Donnelly, excelled for the Illini and were named American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) All-America Honorable Mention honorees, while the sophomores both earned All-Big Ten accolades and Donnelly collected All-Big Ten Honorable Mention honors.

Along with the awards, Bastianelli finished the season as the NCAA leader with 1.79 blocks per set and 201 total blocks on the season.

2017

Change was in the air for the Illinois volleyball team in 2017 as Chris Tamas was named the eighth head coach in program history following the departure of Kevin Hambly to Stanford.

The Illini opened the season with six-straight victories en route to bringing home the Montana State Bobcat Classic and the Cardinal Classic championships.

After dropping both matches in the Big Ten/Pac-12 Challenge – hosted at Huff Hall for the first time in its history, including a showdown with Stanford in the home opener – the Illini wrapped up nonconference tournament action with the Dr. Mary Jo Wynn Invitational Championship.

The Illini started off a strong Big Ten slate with back-to-back wins over Indiana and Northwestern, before trading off wins and losses over the next several dates.

The Orange and Blue then finished off the regular season with three-straight wins, including a four-set victory over No. 7 Minnesota, marking the first win over the Gophers since 2014 and the highest-ranked foe Illinois had beaten since 2014.

With a pair of thrilling five-set victories over Hawaii and No. 10-ranked Washington in the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament - hosted by the Huskies, the Illini advanced to the 17th Sweet 16 appearance in program history – eighth in the last 10 years – and the first for head coach Chris Tamas.

The Illini put up a fight against Michigan State before falling to the Spartans, 3-1, in the NCAA Regional semifinals to end the Illini's postseason run.

Individually, juniors Ali Bastianelli and Jordyn Poulter excelled for the Illini and were named American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) All-America third-team honorees, while the juniors both earned All-Big Ten accolades and freshman Megan Cooney collected Big Ten All-Freshman Team honors.

The third-seeded Illinois volleyball team made its fourth appearance in the NCAA National Semifinals in program history and first since 2011 after wins over Eastern Michigan, Louisville, No. 15 Marquette, and No. 8 Wisconsin in the Champaign Regional. The Illini rode a 17-match win streak into their NCAA National Semifinal match with Nebraska, before falling to the Huskers in five sets.

Illinois finished the season with an overall record of 32-4 and finished in second place in the Big Ten Conference with a 17-3 mark. The 2018 season was the first 30-win season since 2011 and was the eighth time in program history that the Illini registered 30 wins or more, with the 32 victories tied for fourth-most wins in school history behind only 1985 (39), 1977(38), 1986 (36), 1992 (32), and 2011 (32). The Illini ended the year ranked No. 3 in the AVCA Coaches Top 25 Poll and No. 2 in the final RPI.

The Illini opened their season with 17-straight victories, including sweeping their pre-conference tournaments – including Colorado State Tournament, Big Ten/Pac-12 Challenge, CSU Invitational II, and the Illini Classic Presented by Hyatt Place – to enter the Big Ten schedule with an 11-0 mark.

From there, Illinois earned three-straight wins to open league play, before stumbling and dropping three of the next four matches: at home against No. 3 Nebraska and No. 6 Wisconsin and on the road at No. 3 Minnesota. The Illini continued their road trip for another meeting with the Badgers in just 10 days and were able to come away with a four-set victory, including toughing out a 35-33 win in the third set, that propelled the team into the remainder of their regular-season schedule.

Starting with the road win at No. 6 Wisconsin, the Illini rattled off 13-straight wins – including a five-set win over No. 7 Penn State in Huff Hall for the first time since 2014 – to head into the NCAA Tournament with a 28-3 overall record.

Illinois was selected as the No. 3 national seed in the 2018 NCAA Division I Volleyball Championships for its 25th appearance in program history and was able to host both the first and second rounds and the regional round of the tournament in Huff Hall.

Seniors Jordyn Poulter and Ali Bastianelli and junior Jacqueline Quade collected American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) All-America honors, with Poulter and Quade earning First Team accolades and Bastianelli being named to the Third Team.

Four members of the Illini earned American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) All-Region honors, with senior Jordyn Poulter and head coach Chris Tamas being named the Northeast Region's Player of the Year and Coach of the Year, respectively. Poulter, senior Ali Bastianelli, and junior Jacqueline Quade were also named to the AVCA All-Northeast Region team. It was the first time in program history that a player and a coach garnered Player and Coach of the Year accolades in the same season. It was also the third-straight campaign in which that senior duo had been named All-Region, with Quade nabbing her first All-Region accolade of her career.

Senior setter Jordyn Poulter was also named the Big Ten

Jordyn Poulter earned AVCA All-American honors three times in her career.

Co-Setter of the Year, highlighting the five Illini honored when the Big Ten Conference announced its postseason awards. Poulter became the first-ever Illini to earn Setter of the Year accolades and was the first Illini to win a major Big Ten award since 2008, when Michelle Bartsch was named Big Ten Freshman of the Year.

Senior Ali Bastianelli and junior Jacqueline Quade joined Poulter as unanimous selections to the All-Big Ten First-Team, with junior Ashlyn Fleming garnering Second-Team accolades.

The Illinois volleyball team continued its winning tradition, making its third-straight NCAA Tournament appearance despite losing one of its most talented senior classes and following up from one of the most successful seasons in program history.

After opening up the season with a pair of five-set wins over No. 19 Tennessee in a home-and-home series, the Illini dropped both matches at the Big Ten/Pac-12 Challenge. The Illini then went 1-3 at the Redbird Classic, but finished off the tournament with a five-set win over No. 7 Marquette and carried that momentum to back-to-back wins over Pacific and LMU in the Bulldog Brawl.

The Illini kicked off the Big Ten season with a five-set setback against No. 3 Nebraska, but then won three-straight, including a 3-1 victory at No. 17 Purdue. Illinois then fell in four of the next five matches, with all four losses coming at the hands of top-10 ranked teams Minnesota (twice), Wisconsin, and Penn State.

Illinois then won seven of its next 10 matches before falling at Northwestern in the season finale. After earning an at-large bid into the 2019 NCAA Tournament, the Illini traveled to Provo, Utah, and battled No. 17 Utah, before falling in a five-set thriller.

Individually, senior Jacqueline Quade finished off her Illini career on a high note after earning American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) All-America honorable mention accolades as well as AVCA All-Northeast Region and All-Big Ten First Team honors. Senior Ashlyn Fleming also nabbed her second-straight All-Big Ten Second Team accolade and redshirt freshman Diana Brown was named to the Big Ten All-Freshman Team.

2020-21

The 2020-21 season proved to be the most unique and challenging seasons in the history of college athletics due to the COVID-19 pandemic. After the Big Ten Conference suspended all athletics activities in March 2020, members of the Illinois volleyball team finally begin to return to campus at the end of June. The Illini opened preseason practice on Aug. 7, 2020, before the Big Ten presidents and chancellors postponed all fall sports a few days later on Aug. 11. On Sept. 22, the NCAA Division I Board of Directors approved plans to hold 2020 fall championships in the spring of 2021 and announced the first competition date for volleyball as Jan. 22.

The Illini opened their season at Iowa on Jan. 22 – 413 days after playing in their last match in the first round of the NCAA Tournament against Utah on Dec. 6, 2019.

The Big Ten Conference played a league-only schedule during the 2020-21 spring season, which ran for 11 weeks with two matches each week against the same opponent for a total of 22 regular-season contests.

After opening the 2020-21 season with a pair of wins at Iowa on Jan. 22-23, Illinois faced five of the top six teams in the Big Ten Conference in consecutive weeks, with all five teams finishing in the top 12 of the final AVCA Volleyball Top 25 Poll: No. 3 Wisconsin, No. 9 Minnesota, No. 6 Nebraska, No. 10 Ohio State, and No. 12 Penn State. The Illini then finished off the season against their sixth ranked Big Ten foe in No. 7 Purdue on April 2-3.

Despite the rough stretch of 10-straight losses – which also included four matches against Northwestern and Michigan State cancelled due to COVID-19 issues within the other schools' programs, the Illini rallied to win five of their last six matches, including a come-from-behind five-set victory at then-No. 8 Purdue in the final match of the season on April 3.

Individually, junior Taylor Kuper was named an American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) Northeast All-Region Honorable Mention inclusion as well as an All-Big Ten First Team honoree, becoming the first defensive specialist or libero to earn all-conference first-team accolades in program history after a breakout season in her first year in the libero jersey. Senior Megan Cooney earned All-Big Ten Second Team accolades, while freshman Sophie Gregus was tabbed as Illinois' Big Ten Sportsmanship Award recipient. Redshirt junior Diana Brown also collected 2020-21 Academic All-District First Team honors for district five, as selected by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA).

Following one of the most challenging seasons in the history of college athletics, Illinois volleyball returned to the NCAA Tournament for the fourth time in five years under head coach Chris Tamas, upsetting defending national champion Kentucky in Lexington, Ky., to reach its 19th Sweet 16 in school history.

The Illini then opened their season by going 3-0 at the Panther Invite in Milwaukee, with junior Kennedy Collins taking home Tournament MVP honors.

The Orange and Blue returned to Huff Hall for the Pac-12/Big Ten Challenge on Sept. 3-4, when fans were in attendance for the first time in 645 days.

The Illini then traveled to Omaha, going 2-1 in the Blujay Invitational, claiming wins over Omaha and SMU before falling to host Creighton. They then swept the Redbird Invitational, 3-0, and did not lose a set to Missouri, Illinois State, or North Texas.

Megan Cooney received AVCA All-America honorable mention honors in 2021.

Illinois opened Big Ten play with three-straight wins, including a road victory over No. 4 Purdue. The Illini would lose their next three matches, all against opponents ranked No. 6 or higher in the American Volleyball Coaches Association Poll (AVCA).

The team rebounded from that difficult stretch to win five of their next six matches, staking a road win over No. 13 Penn State in the process. The relentlessness of playing in the nation's toughest conference saw the Illini drop three of their next four, with all losses coming against teams ranked No. 11 or higher. Illinois closed out conference play by winning three of its last four to finish seventh in conference with a 12-8 record.

The Illini earned their 27th NCAA Tournament bid and traveled to Lexington, Ky., to take on West Virginia in the first round and dispatched the Mountaineers, 3-1. They then upset reigning national champion Kentucky in the second round, 3-1, to earn their 19th Sweet 16 appearance. The Orange and Blue's season then came to an end, falling to eventual national runner-up Nebraska.

Individually, graduate student Megan Cooney was named an AVCA All-America Honorable Mention, AVCA Northeast All-Region Second Team, and All-Big Ten First-Team honoree. Junior Jessica Nunge was tabbed as Illinois' Big Ten Sportsmanship Award recipient. Redshirt junior Diana Brown was named to the 2021 CoSIDA Academic All-America Second Team and 2021 Academic All-District

First Team for district five.

2022

During the team's sixth year under head coach Chris Tamas, the Fighting Illini finished with a 15-15 overall record and a 10-10 mark in Big Ten play. Raina Terry and Brooke Mosher took home All-Conference honors, continuing a tradition of excellence for the Illinois program.

Illinois opened the 2022 campaign at Ole Miss, with Jessica Nunge and Kayla Burbage earning all-tournament team honors after a 1-1 showing against No. 9 Georgia Tech and Ole Miss.

After the Pac-12/Big Ten Challenge, the Fighting Illini went 3-0 at the Dayton Invitational, topping Missouri State, Villanova, and the host Flyers. Caroline Barnes and Terry earned all-tournament honors, with Diana Brown receiving MVP accolades following the weekend.

After playing matches against Eastern Illinois, Illinois State, and No. 19 Marquette, Big Ten action was on the horizon for the Orange and Blue. Illinois started 2-0 against league opponents, topping Maryland and [RV] Northwestern in straight sets.

Matches against top-10 opponents No. 5 Purdue and No. 8 Wisconsin followed, ending in heartbreaking fashion with both losses coming in five sets. The Illini found the win column again after completing the season sweep of the Terrapins before dropping a match at No. 13 Penn State.

The Fighting Illini broke out the brooms when hosting Rutgers before dropping three-straight matches to No. 10 Minnesota, No. 6 Ohio State, and No. 3 Nebraska.

The highlight of the season came in the following match as the Orange and Blue sought revenge against No. 11 Penn State, downing the ranked Nittany Lions, 3-1. A road trip to New Jersey resulted in a win, with the team topping the Scarlet Knights once more.

After suffering losses to No. 3 Wisconsin and No. 9 Minnesota, Illinois won four-straight matches, taking down RV Michigan, Iowa, and Michigan State twice.

Despite the hot streak, the Illini fell in its final two matches at Indiana and Northwestern.

Three Illini players were named to the College Sports Communicators (CSC formally known as CoSIDA) Academic All- District team, with Barnes, Brown, and Nunge earning the recognition. Brown capped off her career in the Orange and Blue with a second Academic All-America award, earning first-team distinction to cap off an incredible career both on the court and in the classroom.

2023

With Chris Tamas at the helm for his seventh season, the Fighting Illini posted a 16-14 overall record and a 11-9 mark in Big Ten play. For a second-straight season, Raina Terry took home All-Big Ten First Team and AVCA All-Region honors.

The Illini opened the season with a win over Northern Illinois, a match in which Lily Barry made her debut in the Orange and Blue. The true freshman tallied 27 digs in the season opener.

Triumphs over Valparaiso, Illinois State, and UIC followed by a nonconference tournament at Notre Dame. Terry and Barry earned Irish Invitational honors after the weekend bouts. Terry took home her second all-tournament team accolades at the Boilermaker Challenge, at which the outside hitter led the Illini in kills in both matches.

The first Big Ten victory for Illinois was a thriller at Huff Hall as the Illini topped Michigan State in five sets. Kennedy Collins posted a solid outing, recording a season-best in both kills and blocks with 19 and nine, respectively.

With a daunting schedule ahead, the Illini faced challenges, falling to No. 15 Penn State, No. 19 Purdue, and No. 1 Wisconsin in straight sets. However, the team regained its confidence after a four-set triumph over Rutgers at home spurred a six-match winning streak.

During that time, the team faced No. 16 Purdue in a rematch and took down the Boilermakers, 3-1, in epic fashion. Brooke Mosher recorded 47 assists in the win, alongside two aces, four kills, and six blocks, the latter of which tied her career-best mark.

Although the streak was snapped at No. 2 Wisconsin, the Illini claimed three of their next four matches, only falling at No. 1 Nebraska, 3-1.

Despite the success during the latter half of league play, Illinois fell in its final two matches at Minnesota and Northwestern.

Caroline Barnes was named to the College Sports Communicators (CSC formally known as CoSIDA) Academic All- District team for a second-straight season, capitalizing on her success on the court and in the classroom.

With Chris Tamas in his eighth season, the Fighting Illini posted an 18-13 record with a 10-10 mark in Big Ten play. Illinois reached the NCAA Tournament for the 28th time in program history.

For a third-straight season, Raina Terry took home All-Big Ten First Team and AVCA All-Region honors. However, for the first time in her phenomenal career, Terry was named an AVCA All-American.

The Orange and Blue started the season 6-0 with wins at the Best Western Invitational and the Cyclone Invitational. In her debut at Huff Hall against Illinois State, Ashlyn Philpot shined, earning 11 kills and 10 blocks, the first double-double by a middle since Kennedy Collins in 2021 and the first by a freshman at the position since Ali Bastianelli in 2015.

The team closed out its nonconference slate at 8-2 before beginning Big Ten play out west, visiting conference newcomers Oregon and Washington. The team strung together five straight wins, earning a 5-3 record that was capped off by back-to-back sweeps of Indiana and Maryland.

A crucial win at Northwestern began the month of November and marked a special occasion for Terry as the outside hitter became the program's all-time leader in kills during the 3-1 triumph.

Following a loss to #7 Wisconsin, Illinois took down #20 USC in a five-set thriller before completing the weekend with a sweep of Ohio State. Philpot was rewarded for her performances with Big Ten Freshman of the Week honors as the middle blocker posted back-to-back double-digit kill performances over the weekend, amassing 28 kills with a 3.5 kills-per-set average and a .511 hitting percentage.

Despite dropping five of the last six matches of the regular season, Illinois heard its name called on Selection Sunday. The team traveled to Louisville, Ky., to face off against UNI. Despite falling in four sets, the Fighting Illini saw outstanding performances by Christina Martinez Mundo and Terry during their final outings. Martinez Mundo amassed 23 digs, while Terry recorded 18 kills.

Terry closed out her career with 220 aces, 2,138 kills, and 2,522.0 points, leaving as the program's all-time leader in all three categories.

Following the season, Cari Bohm, Averie Hernandez, and Raegen Reilly received College Sports Communicators (CSC formally known as CoSIDA) Academic All- District honors.

Additionally, Terry was named an All-American by the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA). The AVCA Third Team All-American became the 23rd player in Illinois volleyball history to earn the honor.

TERRY HITE
2 YEARS // 40-28 (.588)

The University of Illinois turned to an alumna for its second head volleyball coach. Terry Hite, who graduated from Illinois in 1972, played for the Illini during her school days and then went on to help develop the sport in the Virgin Islands. She founded the St. Thomas (Virgin Islands) Volleyball Association and played on the Virgin Islands National Olympic Volleyball Team before accepting the position at Illinois. In two years, Hite's Illini squads compiled a 40-28 record. Competing unofficially in the Big Ten, Illinois finished second in the league in 1975 and fifth in 1976.

CHRIS ACCORNERO
3 YEARS // 84-51-7 (.592)

From 1977-79, Chris Accornero led the Fighting Illini. In her first season, Illinois won an impressive 38 matches and advanced to its first-ever AIAW National Championship Tournament. In 1978, Accornero's squad won the IAIAW State Championship and posted Illinois' last winning season until 1984. Accornero, who played on the 1970 UCLA national championship team, came to Champaign-Urbana from California State College, Dominguez Hills, where she served as associate director for women's athletics and head volleyball coach.

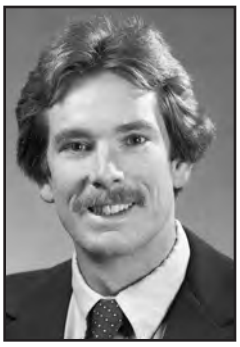
JOHN BLAIR
3 YEARS // 56-79 (.415)



Although he never produced a winning record, head coach John Blair consistently produced a competitive Illini team. An assistant coach at Illinois in 1979, Blair served as a player-coach for the Tennessee men's team and as an assistant coach for the Volunteers' women's squad prior to coming to Illinois. He also was a participant in the 1977 World University Games in Moscow. While with the Illini, Blair led his team to the 1980 AIAW National Championship Tournament. Blair also guided Illinois through the program's move into the NCAA and into the Big Ten Conference.

MIKE HEBERT

In 13 seasons, Mike Hebert turned a program around from one that had six consecutive losing seasons to one that reached the NCAA National Semifinals and was consistently ranked among the top in the nation. Hebert became the winningest coach in school history and reached a milestone of 500 career wins while with the Illini. Hebert's squads won four Big Ten titles (1986, 1987, 1988, 1992), went to 11 consecutive NCAA tournaments, and reached the national semifinals in 1987 and 1988. During Hebert's tenure, Illinois established itself as a leader in volleyball and won the national attendance title in 1992 and 1993. Prior to coming to Illinois, Hebert served as head coach at New Mexico and at Pittsburgh.

DON HARDIN
13 YEARS // 234-163 (.589)

After guiding the University of Louisville for eight successful seasons, including six NCAA appearances, Don Hardin was named the sixth head coach in Fighting Illini history on Jan. 19, 1996. A former assistant at Illinois for the 1987 Final Four team, Hardin led Illinois to six NCAA appearances (1998, 1999, 2001, 2003, 2004, and 2008), including three trips to the Sweet 16 in 1998, 2003, and 2008. Hardin was named Big Ten Coach of the Year in 2001 after leading the Illini to a 21-9 record, the second round of the NCAA Tournament, and a final national ranking of 20th. Illinois finished the 2003 season ranked 15th nationally and had its best season since 1992, earning Hardin his second Big Ten Coach of the Year honor. In 2008, the Illini earned a No. 9 national seed and finished the year ranked 11th in the final poll. He had only one player transfer in 13 seasons, while his players posted a near perfect graduation rate.

KEVIN HAMBLY

Kevin Hambly rapidly built the Illini into one of the elite teams in the country through strong recruiting, including the Class of 2015, which was ranked No. 1 in the nation. Hambly posted a record of 178-86 in his eight years as head coach at Illinois, including a 32-5 mark in 2011, when the Simi Valley, California, native guided the Illini to their first Final Four in 23 years, reaching the championship match for the first time ever. The Illini spent four weeks at No. 1 in both the AVCA and Volleyball Magazine polls, the first time the Illini had reached that pinnacle. Illinois swept the season series against four-time defending national champion Penn State for the first time in school history and earned the No. 3 national seed in the NCAA Tournament. Following the season, Hambly was named Volleyball Magazine's 2011 National Coach of the Year.

CHRIS TAMAS
8 YEARS // 149-94 (.613)

Across his first eight seasons at the helm of the program, Tamas has guided Illinois to an overall record of 149-94 (.613), including a 90-68 (.560) mark in the nation's toughest volleyball league, the Big Ten Conference. He also has guided the Fighting Illini to five NCAA Tournament appearances, including three NCAA Regional appearances and a trip to the Final Four in 2018, while he has led the Orange and Blue to 10+ conference wins in seven of his eight seasons thus far.

Illinois experienced one of its most successful seasons ever in 2018 under Tamas, who was named American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) Northeast Region Coach of the Year, with the Illini making the program's fourth-ever appearance in the NCAA National Semifinals.

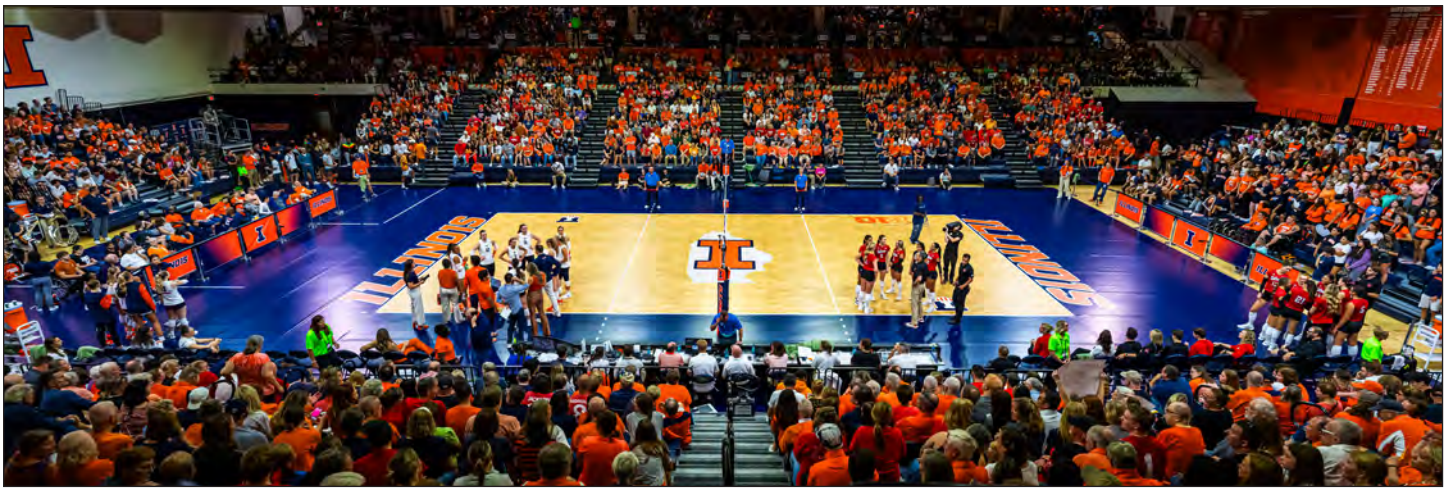
Lauren Harks was Illinois' first libero and led the team in digs in 2003 and 2004.

HUFF HALL



This year marks the 36th season that the Illinois volleyball program has called George Huff Hall its home. Huff Hall is a versatile multi-use facility and is home to Illini volleyball, wrestling, and men's and women's gymnastics. Huff is known for creating the circus-like atmosphere that fostered the term "March Madness" when it was the longtime home of the Illinois High School Association state basketball tournament.

Illinois has been one of the nation's toughest places for visiting teams as the Illini have compiled a 484-203 (.705) home mark over 50 seasons. Prior to 1990, the Illini played primarily at Kenney Gym, while hosting some matches at the IMPE Building (now the ARC), where they accumulated a combined 147-56 record. Additionally, the Orange and Blue are 2-2 all time at State Farm Center. Illinois hosted top-ranked Hawaii at then-Assembly Hall in 1981, then returned for the first time on Oct. 16, 2009, when the Illini topped No. 6 Minnesota, 3-0, in front of a school-record crowd of 7,632. The Illini swept Iowa at the Center on Sept. 27, 2013, in front of 7,061 fans, prior to hosting the 2013 NCAA Regional, featuring Wisconsin, Florida State, and Purdue. Despite a blizzard outside, the Illini's Sweet 16 matchup with Purdue drew a strong crowd of 4,631, the third-largest showing in program history.

Illinois won 33 home matches in a row from 1987-89 and 22 in a row at Huff from 1991-92 and again from 2010-11. The Illini have 12 seasons with at most one home loss, going undefeated at home in 1985 and 1988.

Much of Illinois' success can be attributed to the home-court advantage created by Illini fans. The Orange and Blue have consistently been ranked among the top 10 in the nation in attendance, including a stretch of seven times in eight seasons from 2011-18. Illinois' all-time attendance record at Huff Hall featured 4,536 fans on Oct. 6, 2014, on the inaugural IlliNOISE Night against Wisconsin. The new standard of 4,521 fans on Dec. 8, 2018, came to watch the Illini defeat the Badgers to advance to the program's fourth NCAA National Semifinal. The Fighting Illini had over 3,000 fans a total of five times in 2019, with 14 of the top-20 all-time top crowds coming in the last 11 seasons.

The Fighting Illini won consecutive NCAA attendance titles in 1992 and 1993. In 1992, the Illini broke the NCAA single-season attendance record as 52,666 fans packed into Huff Hall for 17 matches, which remains the most in Illinois history. Illinois led the nation in average attendance the following year, drawing 2,657 fans per event.

Huff Hall's gymnasium, located on the first floor, contains enough space for two volleyball practice courts and the volleyball match facility.

Creating an intimidating home-court advantage for the Fighting Illini, seating is located on all four sides of the court for a capacity of 4,152.

Huff also houses a training room, a weight room, equipment rooms, and locker rooms in the basement, as well as many academic offices and classrooms on the first, second, and third floors. Additionally, student-athletes can access the 200-meter indoor track at the Armory via an underground tunnel that connects the two buildings.

Through the years, Huff has undergone multiple renovations, with the women's locker and squad rooms completely renovated in 2002. Two years later, the men's locker and squad rooms, along with the training and weight rooms, were fully renovated.

Prior to the 2014 season, Huff Hall underwent a massive renovation, demonstrating the DIA's commitment to volleyball. A brand-new floor was put in, replacing the old basketball court with a more springy volleyball surface to protect the student-athletes' joints. The bleacher seats on the East and West sides were replaced, while permanent seating was added to the South side, increasing the seating capacity from roughly 4,050 to 4,536. With the new South bleachers came a new position for the scoreboard on that end of the gym. Four large ceiling fans were added above the seating areas on either side of the court to help keep the crowd cool, and new bathrooms were constructed in the basement. Additionally, a new LED scorer's table was installed for the 2015 season.

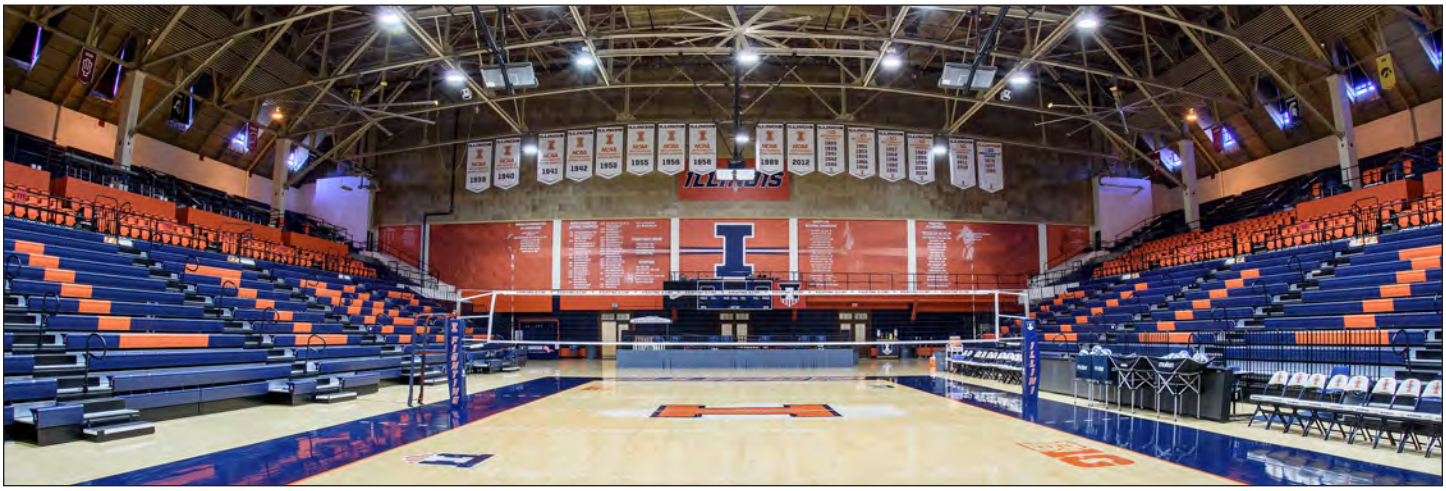
HUFF HALL



In the spring of 2016, more changes were on the way as all balcony seating was replaced, with orange chair-back seating, navy bench seating, and a new seating area for media installed in the lower balcony. The upper balcony was also replaced with navy bench seating, changing the seating capacity from 4,536 to 4,152.

More improvements came in the spring and summer of 2018, as the team and locker room received a full upgrade, and a new Taraflex volleyball floor came in August of the 2019 season.

A videoboard on the south side of the gymnasium was installed in 2022. Fans can now enjoy replay and in-game graphics. In 2024, a new student section was added, with bleachers being installed on the North side of the building.

Huff Hall is named for longtime Illinois athletic director and coach George Huff. Huff served as Illinois' Athletic Director from 1901 to 1935, a time during which the Fighting Illini athletic programs enjoyed unparalleled success. Huff was also the driving force behind the construction of Memorial Stadium in 1923.

Prior to Huff's tenure as athletic director, he served as head football coach from 1895 to 1899 and baseball skipper from 1896 to 1919. Known by many of his close friends and business associates as "G," Huff served as manager of the Boston Red Sox in 1907.

Originally called the "New Gymnasium," Huff Hall was designed in the Georgian-Revival Style by Charles A. Platt and University Architect James M. White. The building's architecture matches that of the Armory, Main Library, the Union, and other campus buildings. At the conclusion of its $772,000 construction in 1925, Huff Hall replaced the Military Drill Hall (now known as Kenney Gym Annex) as the home for Fighting Illini basketball. The "New Gymnasium" was renamed Huff Hall in 1937 following the longtime athletic director's passing.

Illinois has enjoyed a proud athletic tradition in the gymnasium at Huff Hall. Huff Hall served as home for Illinois basketball from 1925 to 1963, when the Fighting Illini won 339 out of 418 games (.811), secured eight Big Ten championships, and earned two NCAA Final Four appearances. Even though it was more than twice the size of the old Drill Hall where Illinois had previously played, it was realized soon after construction that the building was too small to hold all the Illinois fans.

In 1925, a writer for Illinois Alumni News stated, "It seems high time that the Stadium (referring to Memorial Stadium) be roofed over for basketball. We can't imagine any other way to get in all the customers." The Illinois basketball team played to raucous capacity crowds for nearly 40 years while at Huff Hall, forcing some fans to wait several years to obtain tickets.

The gymnasium in Huff Hall has hosted its fair share of championships at the collegiate and high school levels over the years. In 1940 and 1947, the Fighting Illini hosted the NCAA Wrestling Championships at Huff Hall. In 1930, 1933, 1946, 1948, and 1958, the Big Ten Wrestling Championships came to Huff. Not to be outdone, the IHSA used the gymnasium at Huff Hall for nine of its state wrestling tournaments in the 1940s, 1950s, and 1960s, prior to the championships moving down Fourth Street to State Farm Center.

Huff Hall also served as host for the 1991, 1995, and 2003 Big Ten Women's Gymnastics Championships; the 1992, 1995, and 2004 Big Ten Men's Gymnastics Championships; and the 1993 and 1999 NCAA Men's Gymnastics East Regional.

Huff Hall has played host to many NCAA volleyball tournament matches, beginning with the 1992 first round and regional volleyball matches. Huff would go on to be the site of a 1994 NCAA first-round volleyball match, a 1995 NCAA second-round volleyball match, and the first and second rounds of the 1998, 2001, 2003, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2013, 2014, and 2018 NCAA Volleyball Tournaments, as well as the 2018 NCAA Champaign Regional. The first and second rounds of the 1997 NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament were also played in the gymnasium at Huff Hall.

ILLINI CLASSIC

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE ILLINI CLASSIC

The four-team Illini Classic began in 1984, featuring Missouri, Northern Illinois, Notre Dame, and the host Fighting Illini. Missouri won the inaugural round-robin tournament with a pair of 3-0 wins.

In 1985, Illinois defeated New Mexico State, 3-0, to win its first Classic title. In 1986, No. 4 San Jose State ended a 15-match home winning streak for the Illini, winning 3-1.

In 1987, No. 4 Brigham Young defeated No. 6 Illinois, 3-1, in the title match featuring two of the nation's top returning teams.

The Fighting Illini captured the 1988 and 1989 Classic titles, defeating Nebraska and Pittsburgh, respectively. In 1990, No. 6 Stanford pulled off a stunning comeback to defeat the Illini in the title match. In 1991, Illinois scored the last six points in the decisive fifth game, shocking No. 19 Georgia to win the championship.

In 1992, the Classic featured the "Big Eight-Big Ten Challenge," pitting No. 12 Illinois and No. 14 Ohio State against No. 5 Nebraska and No. 16 Colorado. Illinois captured the 1995 title by defeating the Louisville Cardinals in the championship match. That began a winning streak of consecutive tournament titles for the Illini, which stood at six until Florida ended the run by claiming the 2001 title.

In one of the biggest regular-season victories in school history, the Illini defeated No. 1 USC, ending the Women of Troy's then-NCAA record 52-match winning streak in the 2004 finals. The Illini rallied from 2-1 down to claim the victory in front of more than 3,000 fans at Huff Hall.

The "Stuff Huff" promotion produced 3,219 fans for the 2006 tournament and season opener between Illinois and Illinois State. The Illini claimed their 18th championship with a victory over No. 11 Oregon in dramatic fashion in 2008 and went 3-0 for the titles in 2009, 2010, and 2011. In 2012, the Classic featured just two teams, as the Illini played No. 15 Iowa State on back-to-back nights. Illinois won 3-0 in front of 3,770 fans on opening night, but fell 3-2 the following night. Illinois hosted a pair of top-10 teams in the 2013 Illini Classic. The Orange and Blue defeated Arizona State, 3-2, for Kevin Hambly's 100th career victory, but fell to No. 6 Washington and No. 2 Texas. The tournament did not feature a round-robin format, and no champion was crowned nor was there an all-tournament team. For the third-consecutive year, Illinois claimed the Illini Classic title in 2016 despite falling to Missouri State in the tournament finale, earning the title in tiebreaker fashion.

Illinois has won 25 of the 32 outright titles and split with Iowa State in 2012.

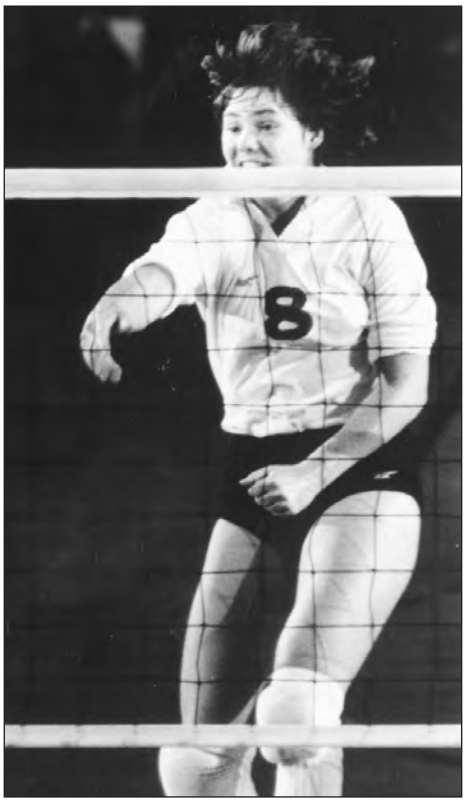
MARY EGGERS

1988 HONDA AWARD (NAT'L POY)

1986, 1987, 1988 // FIRST TEAM

In a golden era of Illinois volleyball full of great players, one stood out from the rest. At 5-11, she wasn't the tallest player on the floor, but as the News-Gazette sportswriter Joe Milas described, "While others can jump higher, perhaps hit the ball harder, no one gets more out of each attack attempt than Eggers. Her ability to hang in the air, a la Michael Jordan, lets her see where to place the ball over, around, or through an opponent's block. Her intense expression freezes the other team, and just when they're expecting a hard-hit ball, Eggers softly taps it over for a winner."



A perhaps unassuming player off the court, no one was more competitive on it. A record-setting runner and talented basketball player in high school, Eggers chose to pursue her favorite sport, volleyball, in college. Once, when a tornado warning halted play during a match, head coach Mike Hebert found Eggers and a teammate diving to the floor while playing handball in the hallway.

Not only did Eggers earn three First Team All-America awards, she earned the Honda Player of the Year award in 1988-89. She was the Big Ten Freshman of the Year in 1985 and earned four First Team All-Big Ten selections and the league's Most Valuable Player award in 1986, 1987, and 1988. Eggers led the nation in hitting percentage in 1986 and 1988, setting an NCAA record with her .455 mark in 1986. Her career hitting percentage of .420 stood as the NCAA record until 1993 and currently ranks third all time.

Eggers was the driving force behind two Final Four appearances for Illinois in 1987 and 1988. She holds Illinois records for most kills in a career (1,761) and has the top-three seasons in terms of hitting percentage (.455 in 1986, .436 in 1987, and .433 in 1988) in school history.

She played with the USA National Team and competed professionally in Europe. She served as the head coach at Elon University and retired in November 2024 following 22 seasons with the Phoenix.

NANCY BROOKHART

1987, 1988, 1989 // SECOND TEAM

Nancy Brookhart and teammate Mary Eggers made for an intimidating combination along the front line during Illinois' back-to-back Final Four seasons of 1987 and 1988.

Brookhart ranked 17th nationally with a .373 hitting percentage in 1988 and set a Big Ten single-match record with a .941 clip (16 kills in 17 attempts) vs. Michigan in 1987.

In 1987, Brookhart shared Big Ten Most Valuable Player honors with Eggers and was named to the NCAA Mideast Regional All-Tournament Team in '87 as well.

Brookhart's 1,669 kills rank fourth all-time at Illinois, while her 540 kills in 1987 set an Illini record, which was eventually broken by Erin Borske in 1995.

Brookhart exploded onto the scene as a freshman in 1985. Beyond Illinois, she played on a United States traveling team, was invited to the U.S. Olympic Festival in 1987, and played at the World University Games during the summer of 1986.

Noted for her excitement and passion for the game on the court, Brookhart once told a reporter, "I've never had so much fun in my life. I come out for every match and find a way to have a good time."

A First Team All-American at Glenbard West High School in Glen Ellyn, Illinois, Brookhart missed the 1986 NCAA Tournament after coming down with mononucleosis, but rebounded the following year to not only be named one of the Top 50 players in the country, but earn All-Regional accolades as Illinois advanced to its first Final Four.

LAURA BUSH

1989 // SECOND TEAM

By the time 1989 rolled around, Illinois had established itself as a national power, and like most good baseball teams, the strength of the volleyball team could be found up the middle. Bush became Illinois' fourth superstar middle blocker and third All-American under Mike Hebert, who had quickly gained a reputation in producing strong players at the position.

Ironically, Bush moved from outside hitter to the middle after Mary Eggers sustained an injury during a match early in the 1988 season. Even at the outside, Bush developed into one of the Illini's top blockers.

Bush, who led Illinois with 449 kills in 1989, also garnered First Team Academic All-America honors by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA). A native of one of the small-school powers in Illinois, Stewardson-Strasburg, Bush earned a perfect 5.0 grade-point average during her first semester on campus.

Illinois athletic director Neale Stoner helped coin the phrase, "The '80s belong to the Illini," and with Bush, Eggers, Brookhart, and others, the Illini not only advanced to the Final Four in volleyball during the 1988-89 season, but the "Flying Illini" did so in basketball as well. The following year, Bush and one of the stars of the basketball team, Kendall Gill, shared the spotlight as the Illini's Female and Male Athletes of the Year.

During that 1989 All-America season, Bush led Illinois to the Regional Final and a No. 7 national ranking while not only leading the Illini in kills, but blocks (116) and digs (308) as well. She also became the third player in team history to win the Sandy Scholtens Award.

KIRSTEN GLEIS

1992 // FIRST TEAM

Kirsten Gleis made the most of her one year at Illinois, getting the Illini back to the Elite Eight for the first time in four years. Gleis, a Dutch citizen, transferred to Illinois to complete her degree in economic geography. She had started for the National Team of Holland in the 1992 Olympic games in Barcelona.

At the time called perhaps the best player in Big Ten history, Gleis helped the Illini to a share of the conference championship. Her play, along with that of her teammates, was instrumental in Illinois averaging over 3,000 fans per match in 1992. The Illini hosted both the NCAA first and second rounds and NCAA Regional, falling to No. 2 Stanford in the Regional Final.

Illinois head coach Mike Hebert discovered Gleis while scouting for venues for the team's European trip, and she became the second All-American at Illinois from Holland, joining Petra Laverman, the Third Team All-American in 1990.

Gleis was named to every all-tournament, all-region, and All-America team possible, including earning MVP honors at the Reebok Challenge and the Illini Classic. She totaled 456 kills, 45 aces, 106 blocks, and 236 digs in her only season in Champaign as the primary offensive and defensive player. She was named Big Ten Player of the Week three times.

Her influence went beyond the stat sheet. Posting a near-perfect grade-point average, Gleis was the one the Illini went to when "we needed a steady influence on the floor, in team timeouts, or when the team needed a boost," according to Hebert.

TINA ROGERS

1992 // SECOND TEAM

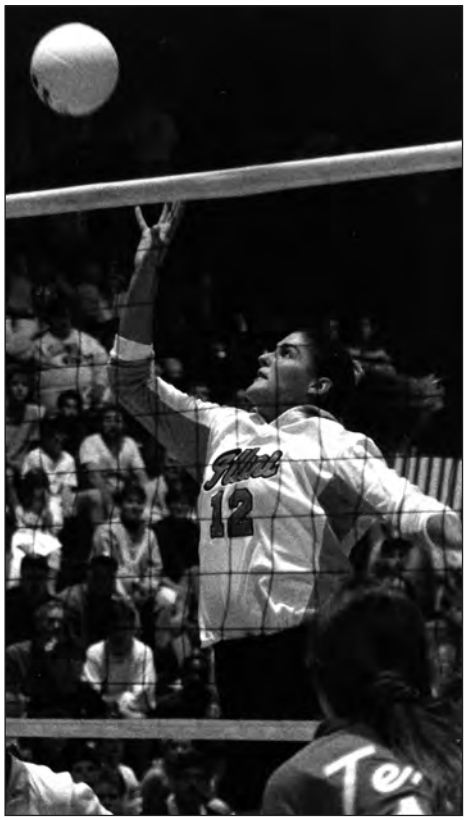
One of the most popular players in Illinois history, Tina Rogers came to Illinois from one of the state's small-school giants, Mt. Pulaski, leading the Hilltoppers to the 1989 state title and earning News-Gazette Player of the Year honors.

Andrew Bagnato of the Chicago Tribune wrote, "On a campus whose sports spotlight is dominated by men's basketball and football, she is the lone female athlete big enough to need only a first name. At Illinois, there is Jason (Verduzco), there is Deon (Thomas), and there is Tina."

After missing part of the 1991 season following arthroscopic knee surgery, Rogers didn't emerge as a force until the 1992 season. Nicknamed "The Big Hurt" after White Sox slugger Frank Thomas, Rogers ranked third in the Big Ten in hitting percentage (.385), one of four Illini in the top five. Her 67 aces in 1992 led the conference and are still an Illinois record, and her 143 career aces rank fifth all-time.

Rogers played in one of the best eras of Illini volleyball. Illinois led the nation in attendance in both 1992 and 1993 and qualified for the NCAA Tournament in each of Rogers' four years. A four-time Big Ten Player of the Week, Rogers led the Illini to a 90-39 mark across her four-year career.

After the graduation of Lorna Henderson from the 1992 team and Kirsten Gleis' decision to return to Holland, Rogers was the focal point of the 1993 offense, setting an Illinois record with seven 20-kills matches, a mark which is currently seventh-most in Illinois history. Her 32 kills vs. Southwest Missouri set an Illinois record for kills in a three-set match. She was honored with the 1993-94 Dike Eddleman Award, given to Illinois' top male and female athletes.



ERIN BORSKE

1995 // FIRST TEAM

44 -- that's the number of kills Erin Borske had in a five-set match against No. 6 Penn State. Those who saw Borske play were impressed, but not surprised. In fact, after that Nittany Lion match, Penn State coach Russ Rose said, "We held Erin to only 44 kills; that's pretty good."

Such were the sentiments of most who saw Borske. She was head and shoulders above the rest on most nights. Even after the alumni match as a freshman, her first competition at Huff Hall, one alum said, "When I saw her, I thought another Mary Eggers."

In just two years at Illinois, Borske had 28 20-plus kills matches, which was the Illinois record until 2005, when Rachel VanMeter recorded her 29th. Her 44 kills vs. Penn State are tied for second in Big Ten history, and her 714 kills in 1995 are an Illini record. But, Borske was more than a strong offensive player. On Nov. 17, Borske added 26 digs to go with her 41 kills in a five-set victory over Minnesota.

Borske and Mary Eggers are the only two sophomores from Illinois to earn first-team All-America status. At the end of her career, she owned six Big Ten single-match or single-season records. She finished the year with 396 digs (second in Illinois history) to go along with her 714 kills in 1995. At the time, Borske had shattered the Big Ten records for kills in a season by 80 and averaged 6.17 kills per game in Big Ten play. She also earned MVP honors in all three tournaments in which the Illini participated in 1995. The Illini defeated Georgia, 3-1, to advance to the NCAA Sweet 16. Borske had 35 kills and hit .373 to pace Illinois in that match.

Borske was the Big Ten Freshman of the Year in 1994 after amassing 478 kills and 355 digs. Playing just two seasons, Borske totaled 1,192 kills and 751 digs.

LISA ARGABRIGHT

2003 // THIRD TEAM

Lisa Argabright will be remembered for thunderous kills that brought down the house at Huff Hall in 2003. The student section would chant from across both sides of the court, "Jack-Hammer, Jack-Hammer" every time Argabright had a putaway.

The lanky, long-armed 6-5 middle blocker redefined the position at Illinois, hitting .376 for the year and averaging 1.28 blocks per game in 2003. Argabright registered double figures in kills in 26 of 33 matches and recorded a hitting percentage of .400 or better in 15 matches.

Illinois suffered through an injury-plagued 2002, with Argabright missing a portion of the season with mononucleosis and also battling an elbow injury. The Illini finished 13-16 and were overlooked coming into 2003.

As the 2003 season progressed, however, it became obvious that Illinois was a team that could contend for the Big Ten title. Then, in mid-October, the Illini swept Penn State and Ohio State in a weekend for the first time in eight seasons. Argabright hit .429 and had 16 kills vs. No. 11 Penn State and hit .417 with 17 kills vs. Ohio State to earn Big Ten Player of the Week honors. Earlier in the year, she earned MVP honors at the University of Connecticut and Illini Classic Tournaments as the Illini won nine straight, the best streak under Coach Don Hardin. With Argabright swinging away, the Illini had their best season in 11 years, going 26-7 with a trip to the Sweet 16.

Argabright led Illinois in kills and blocks for three straight years. She ranks third in attack percentage in a match with 15 kills on 16 swings for a .938 clip vs. Manhattan on Sept. 12, 2003. The two-time All-Big Ten selection finished her career with a .352 attack percentage, fifth in school history, while amassing 1,111 career kills and 404 career blocks.

ERIN VIRTUE

2003 // HONORABLE MENTION

Erin Virtue helped signal a revival in Illinois volleyball. A major reason for the Illini's first Sweet 16 appearance in five years, Virtue had 1,627 assists in 2003, fifth-most in Illinois history. A First Team All-Big Ten honoree, she was second in the league in assists per game (13.56) and was named to three All-Tournament teams.

Virtue helped engineer home victories over No. 11 Penn State and a come-from-behind victory over nationally-ranked Minnesota at Huff Hall. A victory over No. 19 Louisville sent the Illini into the NCAA Sweet 16 in Hawaii.

Virtue made her presence felt in all areas, leading the team and ranking seventh in the Big Ten in service aces (40), while ranking second on the team and 18th in the conference in digs (2.68). She also totaled 15 double-doubles on the season. A native of St. Charles, Illinois, Virtue helped guide her high school, St. Francis, to second in the state as a senior.

Virtue and the Illini looked forward to another strong season in 2004. She was named a Preseason All-American that year, and Illinois was ranked in the preseason Top 25. The senior helped the Illini to one of the program's most memorable wins in school history -- a 3-2 comeback win over No. 1 USC, the two-time defending national champion that entered the match with the longest win streak in NCAA history, 52 matches. With the win, Illinois moved to No. 9 in the polls. Unfortunately, Virtue suffered a career-ending ACL tear the following weekend.

"Erin helped to transform the direction of this program," her coach, Don Hardin, said.

JESSICA BELTER

Jessica Belter is one of the top opposite side hitters to play at Illinois. Hitting alongside the likes of Melissa Vandrey and Lisa Argabright, Belter played on three NCAA qualifiers, including the 2003 Sweet 16 Team.

Belter was named AVCA National Player of the Week on Oct. 20, 2003. She erupted for 16 kills in 19 swings for a .737 hitting percentage vs. Michigan State, then registered 12 kills and 11 digs, hitting a match-high .417 with two errors in 24 swings in the 3-1 victory over Michigan. Belter just missed a triple-double in the win over the Wolverines as she tied her career best in blocks with eight. For the week, she hit .558 with 14.0 kills, 1.7 blocks, and 2.0 digs per game. Belter also had the game-winning kill in game four of a five-set victory over Minnesota at Huff that year.

Having to wear a special wrap on her hand to prevent injury, her success and popularity led to many student fans in the crowd wearing socks over their hands in honor of Belter.

In 2004, Belter ranked eighth in the Big Ten in attack percentage (.324) during all matches, but third in the league (.351) during the 20-match Big Ten season. She was named Big Ten Player of the Week for having monster matches again vs. Michigan State and Michigan, totaling 43 kills and hitting a combined .567 in home victories. She ended her career with 917 kills, including 380 in 2004. She added 108 digs and 90 blocks in her senior season as well.

A first team All-Big Ten performer, Belter was named to four all-tournament teams in her career.

LAURA DEBRULER

2009 - FIRST TEAM // 2008 - SECOND

Laura DeBruler helped represent a rebirth of Illinois volleyball during the 2008 and 2009 seasons.

The hard-hitting precision swings of the 5-10 player made her an instant fan favorite, even as a freshman in 2007. That year, DeBruler led all freshmen nationally in kills per game en route to All-Big Ten Honorable Mention accolades. She had 28 kills in her collegiate debut against Bowling Green in 2007 and finished with 577 for the season.

Over the next two seasons, DeBruler earned two All-America honors all while leading the Illini to back-to-back Sweet 16 appearances. She became one of the more popular players on campus, not only because of her skill and athleticism, but also because of her energy and humility.

The 2010 season was one of high expectations for DeBruler and the Illini. Early in the season, she helped the Illini to victories over No. 2 Texas, ending the Longhorns' 25-match home-court winning streak, and No. 2 Penn State in front of a sold-out Huff Hall, ending the Nittany Lions' record 65-match Big Ten win streak. She became Illinois' all-time leader in kills (1,883) and attacks (4,806) vs. Wisconsin before suffering a season-ending ACL tear a week later.

Over her career, DeBruler earned eight Big Ten Player of the Week honors and two unanimous selections as First-Team All-Big Ten, and she became just the fourth player in Illinois history to be named First Team All-America. During her career, DeBruler was named to 12 all-tournament teams, including being named MVP of three. In 2009, DeBruler ranked 15th nationally in kills per set (4.46) and 14th in the nation in points per set (4.96) while being named MVP of two tournaments.

AVCA ALL-AMERICA PROFILES

JOHANNAH BANGERT

2009 // HONORABLE MENTION

Johannah Bangert holds the record for the triple and long jumps at Washington High School in Missouri. It's that leaping ability that transformed Bangert into one of the top blockers in the country.

In fact, Bangert led the nation in blocks in back-to-back seasons, averaging 1.60 and 1.58 blocks per set in 2008 and 2009, respectively.

Bangert etched her name in the Illini record books, setting the career mark for blocks with 653, breaking the old record held by Illini great Mary Eggers. She also holds the Big Ten record for career block assists with 613, as well as the second- and third-best single-season blocks marks by an Illini with 202 and 179 as a sophomore and junior, respectively. Bangert tied the school's single-match block assists record with 13 vs. both Purdue and Wisconsin and now has four of the top nine on that list.

A three-year starter from a recruiting class ranked No. 6 in the nation, Bangert helped the Illini to three-straight Sweet 16 appearances. She was named Big Ten Defensive Player of the Week five times during her career while also earning two Academic All-Big Ten honors and, in 2009 and 2010, being named ESPN the Magazine Academic All-District. Bangert covered a lot of ground at the net all the while hitting .317 for her career.

Bangert had some of her best matches against some of the nation's best, which included teaming up with Michelle Bartsch for the match-tying kill vs. Michigan in 2009.

Bangert had the personality to go along with her play on the floor, with many rituals and traditions, including wearing purple on Thursdays.

MICHELLE BARTSCH

2010, 2011 - THIRD TEAM // 2009 - HM

Michelle Bartsch was one of the most well-rounded players in Illinois history.

As a freshman, Bartsch played just three front-row rotations, working with Johannah Bangert to become a lethal "Killer B" block combination while stopping many of the top left-side hitters on the schedule. As a sophomore, however, Bartsch played every rotation, becoming an effective pass-hitter while also increasing her kill total from 295 to 344. Bartsch averaged 2.24 digs per set as well.

As a junior, Bartsch moved past the 1,000-kill mark after a career-best 448 and earned MVP honors of the Time Warner Cable Invitational, a tournament that saw the Illini sweep No. 2 Texas in its own arena.

Along with teammate Colleen Ward, Bartsch was one of the top "pin" players in the Big Ten in 2011. She was named a First Team All-American by Volleyball Magazine, an All-Big Ten performer, and a Third Team AVCA All-American. She also earned MVP honors for three tournaments. Bartsch became just the sixth Illinois player with multiple 20-20 performances when she did so on consecutive days (vs. Tennessee and Dayton), then added a third 20-20 match with 22 kills and 22 digs vs. USC.

Bartsch was also named the top server at the NORCECA games while playing for the U.S. Junior National team in the summer of 2008. She was also invited to participate on the United States National A2 team multiple times during her college career.

Bartsch ended her career ranked second in attack attempts (4,776), fourth in block assists (422), seventh in kills (1,644), eighth in total blocks (451), and 10th in digs (1,035) on Illinois' career list. Her 466 digs in 2011 are the seventh-most by an Illinois player in a single season. She led Illinois in kills with 557 in 2011, the fifth-most in a single season in school history.

HILLARY HAEN

2010 - THIRD TEAM // 2009 - HM

Like a starting quarterback of a football team, Hillary Haen was the engineer behind a team that reached as high as No. 5 in the nation in 2009 and emerged a legitimate Final Four contender in 2010, moving up to No. 3 and finishing the year at No. 9.

Haen was regarded as one of the top setters in the country in 2009 and 2010, and the accolades reflect that. She was a two-time All-Big Ten selection and an All-Mideast Region choice, and she became just the second setter in Illinois history to be named an All-American, joining Erin Virtue.

Haen was 16th in the nation in assists in 2009 and 17th nationally in that department in 2010. She moved into fourth on Illinois' all-time career assists list at 3,956, while her 1,471 assists during her senior season ranked eighth-best at the time.

Haen earned four All-Tournament accolades in her final two seasons and was named MVP of the 2010 State Farm Illini Classic after posting 134 assists combined in three Illinois victories.

As a sophomore, Haen was a right side hitter during her front-row rotations and totaled 162 blocks for her career. In addition, she tallied 910 digs and 53 service aces.

Illinois' success in the late 2000s coincided with the recruiting class of 2007, which was ranked No. 6 nationally. Haen was considered one of the top three setters of that class. In her four years, Illinois advanced to three Sweet 16s; won 92 matches, including 20 over ranked opponents; and posted three-straight 20-win seasons. In 2010, Illinois ended Texas' 25-match home-court winning streak, defeating the No. 2 Longhorns in three sets; and won a thrilling match over No. 2 Penn State, halting the Nittany Lions' record 65-match Big Ten win streak.

The Crystal Lake, Illinois, native was as accomplished off the court. The accounting major earned three-straight Academic All-Big Ten honors.

COLLEEN WARD

2011 - FIRST TEAM // 2010 - SECOND

When Colleen Ward elected to transfer to Illinois from Florida for the 2010 season, coach Kevin Hambly said that put Illinois in the discussion for the Final Four and national championship. Ward, the No. 7-ranked player in her class coming out of high school, did just that for the Fighting Illini. In two years, the Naperville, Illinois, native had 1,051 kills and 714 digs and propelled the Illini to the Sweet 16 in 2010 and all the way to the national championship match in 2011, the first in the history of the program.

Nicknamed "Ace Ward" by longtime play-by-play man Dave Loane, Ward had an impressive debut, setting the Illinois record for aces in a match with nine vs. BYU. Ward served eight-straight points to help the Illini pull away from No. 2 Texas early in the season in Austin. With Laura DeBruler missing most of the 2010 season due to injury, Ward stepped in as Illinois' top scoring threat.

In 2011, Ward was named to two All-Tournament teams and had a combined 29 kills in road victories over Ohio State and Penn State, helping the Illini to their first win in State College in 16 years.

But, Ward saved her best for the NCAA Tournament. In an interesting twist of fate, she returned to Gainesville, her college home for two years, for the NCAA Regional. Ward was named the Most Outstanding Player of the Regional, posting 38 kills and 20 digs while hitting .319 in wins over Ohio State and Florida. The last point saw Ward hit high hands off the Gator block, and the ball sailed all the way past the base line. She served four-straight points in the critical fifth set in a 3-2 victory over No. 1 USC in the national semifinal and was named to the All-NCAA Tournament Team after combining for 44 kills and 35 digs in matches against USC and UCLA.

Ward led Illinois with 101 kills in the NCAA Tournament and was named a First Team All-American.

JOCELYNN BIRKS

2014 - SECOND // 2013 - THIRD // 2015 - HM

One of the most decorated student-athletes in program history, Jocelynn Birks is just the fourth Illini to earn AVCA All-America honors on three occasions. She finished her Illini career in grand fashion, as she became the program's all-time kills and attacks leader during her senior season, ending with 1,972 kills in 5,656 attempts. She also wrapped her career ranked second with 2,218 career points and became just the 12th player in program history to register 1,000 digs in her career, finishing seventh all-time with 1,159 career digs. Birks, who earned All-Big Ten for the third-straight season as a senior, led the Illini to three-straight NCAA Sweet 16s during her tenure.

Birks erupted onto the scene as a redshirt freshman in 2012, recording the second-most kills ever for an Illini in her collegiate debut, slamming 16 vs. Dayton. She would go on to earn four Big Ten Freshman of the Week honors and a Big Ten Player of the Week nod, along with Time Warner Cable Texas Invitational MVP award after leading the Illini to an upset of eventual national champion No. 6 Texas and a tournament sweep with an invite-leading 60 kills. She finished her rookie campaign with 510 kills, ranking third in the nation among freshmen in kills and fifth in points. A Big Ten All-Freshman Team and an All-Big Ten Honorable Mention honoree, she was arguably snubbed that season for any higher honors.

However, in 2013, Birks returned for another strong season, posting her second-consecutive 500-kill season, just the third Illini ever to do so, and finished her sophomore campaign ranked third in the nation among underclassmen with 1,010 career kills. The outside hitter finished the season ranked fifth in the Big Ten in kills and points per set and in the top 40 in the NCAA, earning unanimous All-Big Ten honors and a spot on the All-America Third Team.

Birks upped her game yet again in 2014, registering her third-straight 500-kill performance and leading the Big Ten in kills, kills per set, points, points per set, and double-doubles in both all matches and Big Ten play. The Willow Springs, Illinois, native was once again named a unanimous All-Big Ten honoree and earned Second-Team All-America honors from the AVCA, as well as a Big Ten Player of the Week nod and a spot on the NCAA Regional All-Tournament team for the second year in a row.

JENNIFER BELTRAN

2013 // HONORABLE MENTION

Jennifer Beltran used consistent defense to lead the Illini to great heights throughout her four-year career as the Illini's libero. Beltran broke the school single-season digs record as a freshman, tallying 623 digs over 33 matches, then posted the second-most the following season with 571. Beltran would earn an All-Region Honorable Mention honor in her rookie season, along with a Big Ten All-Freshman Team nod.

Beltran would go on to record four of the top seven single-season marks in program history, becoming Illinois' all-time digs leader on Oct. 12, 2013, at Indiana. The defensive specialist became the first Illini to 2,000 digs on Oct. 30 to help lead Illinois past eventual NCAA runner-up No. 16 Wisconsin, and finished her career ranked second all-time in Big Ten history with 2,220 career digs.

Beltran's leadership in the back row helped lead the Illini to the NCAA title match in 2011, during which Beltran would tie and subsequently break the single-match postseason digs record, logging 26 digs vs. Ohio State in the NCAA Regional Semifinal, then putting up 32 digs vs. No. 1 USC in the NCAA Semifinal. Beltran was named to the NCAA All-Regional team after helping the Illini advance to their third Final Four in program history.

Following the 2013 season, the Big Ten did not recognize a single libero on its all-conference team, but the AVCA took notice of her hard work, rewarding her with an All-Northeast Region selection and an All-America Honorable Mention selection.

LIZ MCMAHON

2014 // HONORABLE MENTION

A fan favorite, McMahon put together the best season of her career as a senior, totaling 396 kills and 110 blocks to help lead the Fighting Illini back to the NCAA Regional. She opened her senior year with an unbelievable performance at the Illini Classic, earning Most Valuable Player honors and Big Ten Player of the Week status after leading the tournament with a .426 hitting percentage with 24 kills and 10 blocks in three straight Illini sweeps.

McMahon would go on to be named to every All-Tournament team during nonconference play, with the help of a 19-kill performance at No. 2 Stanford and 18 kills against Virginia Tech.

McMahon was recognized for her performance on the court with an All-Big Ten and All-America Honorable Mention accolades, but her talents far exceeded the playing domain. McMahon became the first Illini in any sport to earn the prestigious Senior CLASS Award, taking home over 30% of the fan vote among the 10 finalists. An Academic All-District Second Team honoree, she was once again named Academic All-Big Ten and a Big Ten Distinguished Scholar. Following the close of the school year, one of the largest honors in the Big Ten was bestowed upon her, as she was named the female recipient of the 2014 Big Ten Medal of Honor.

BRANDI DONNELLY

An Illini mainstay in the lineup throughout her time in Champaign, Brandi Donnelly continued her climb to the top of the Big Ten Conference's top defensive players during her junior campaign.

Donnelly – who earned PrepVolleyball.com Honorable Mention All-America, AVCA All-Northeast Region Honorable Mention, and All-Big Ten Honorable Mention accolades – paced the Big Ten in 2016 in both overall and conference matches with an overall 4.46 digs per set mark during the regular season and a 4.63 clip in league play. The MVP of the Billiken Invitational, Donnelly's passing allowed the Illini to hit at a .251 percentage, while also tying for the team-lead with 17 service aces and ranking second on the team with 76 assists. She also totaled seven matches with 20 digs or more and was named the Big Ten Defensive Player of the Week on Oct. 17.

ALI BASTIANELLI

2018, 2017 - THIRD // 2016 - HM

Bastianelli's accolades on the court are nearly endless. A three-time AVCA All-America, All-Region, and All-Big Ten honoree, Bastianelli finished her stellar Illini career as the Big Ten's all-time leader in block assists and ranked second in conference history in total blocks, both Illinois program records, while helping lead Illinois to the program's fourth-ever appearance in the NCAA National Semifinals in 2018.

She made 135 starts during her UI career, totaling 750 blocks to become the first Illini and third-ever Big Ten player to reach 700 career blocks. She also added 925 kills on a .335 hitting percentage, 114 digs, and 46 service aces. In 2018, she led the Illini to the NCAA national semifinals while earning Champaign Regional All-Tournament Team honors.

As a sophomore, Bastianelli finished the 2016 regular season as the NCAA and Big Ten Conference leader with 1.79 blocks per set and 201 total blocks on the year, including setting a school record with 14 block assists against Stanford on Sept. 3, 2016. The Marysville, Michigan, native did not look back after that, becoming one of the premier blockers in the nation during her time in the Orange and Blue.

JORDYN POULTER

2018 - FIRST // 2017 - THIRD // 2016 - HM

Not only one of the best setters in Illini history, but also Big Ten and NCAA history, Jordyn Poulter will go down as one of the greatest of all time to wear the Orange and Blue and was a major catalyst in guiding Illinois to the program's fourth-ever appearance in the NCAA National Semifinals in 2018.

The 2018 Big Ten Co-Setter of the Year, Poulter is the first-ever Illini to earn such honors and finished her career as a three-time AVCA All-America honoree – earning first-team honors in 2018 after totaling the second-most assists in the NCAA and leading the Big Ten Conference with 1,521 helpers on the season – and joins only four other Illini as a three-time selection.

A 2018 Senior CLASS Award finalist and first-team honoree, she was a three-time AVCA All-Northeast Region First Team honoree and was also named the 2018 AVCA Northeast Region Player of the Year. After leading the Illini to an NCAA Final Four berth, Poulter was named the NCAA Champaign Regional Most Outstanding Player and also collected CoSIDA Academic All-District First Team accolades. She finished her career ranked third all-time in program history with 5,156 career assists and is the first Illini setter to reach both 400 blocks and 1,000 digs.

After her standout senior campaign, Poulter was named a finalist for the Honda Award (National Player of the Year) and wrapped her career as an eight-time Big Ten Setter of the Week and an eight-time All-Tournament honoree.

JACQUELINE QUADE

2018 - FIRST TEAM // 2019 - HM

A two-time AVCA All-America, AVCA All-Northeast Region, and All-Big Ten First-Team honoree, Jacqueline Quade had a breakout season in 2018 – her first as a six-rotation player – as she helped lead Illinois to the program's fourth-ever appearance in the NCAA National Semifinal and continued that success into her final season as she led UI to its third-straight NCAA Tournament appearance in 2019.

As a junior in 2018, Quade paced the Illini and the Big Ten Conference and ranked sixth in the nation with 560 total kills for a 4.24 kills per set mark on a .265 hitting percentage, while totaling 625 points on the season to rank sixth in the nation for a 4.73 points per set average. The MVP of the 2018 B1G/Pac-12 Challenge earlier in the 2018 season, Quade registered 254 digs, 63 blocks, 32 assists, and 32 service aces on the season. She owned nine double-doubles on the season, as well as registered 10 20-kill matches. A 2018 AVCA All-Northwest Region honoree, Quade was also named to the NCAA National Championship Team and the NCAA Champaign Regional All-Region Team and was a unanimous selection to the All-Big Ten First-Team.

She again led the Big Ten and ranked 32nd in the NCAA with 4.21 kills per set, totaling 497 kills on a .214 hitting percentage in 2019, while also serving up the fourth-most aces in the conference with 44 and ranked fifth with 0.37 aces per set, while registering a conference-leading 568.5 points on the season to rank 20th in the nation. The Fort Wayne, Indiana, native finished her career ranked third all-time with 1,791 kills and fourth with 2,016 points and 4,722 attacks, while sitting 10th all-time with 485 sets played. She added 23 double-doubles and 21 20-kill matches in her four seasons at Illinois.

MEGAN COONEY

2021 // HONORABLE MENTION

The 'Iron Woman' of Illini volleyball, Megan Cooney featured in just about every match during the first five years of the Chris Tamas era, playing in 147 of 152 matches, the third-most in Illinois history, and playing in a program-record 554 sets.

The 2022 Big Ten Medal of Honor recipient, Cooney was a mainstay in the Illini lineup during her five-year career, helping Fighting Illini volleyball to four NCAA Tournament appearances, including a Final Four run in 2018 and trips to the Sweet 16 in 2017 and 2021.

An All-Big Ten First-Team selection in 2021, Cooney helped lead Illinois to its third NCAA Regional appearance under Tamas. The 2021 CoSIDA Academic All-District Second-Team honoree ranked second on the team with 376 kills for 3.03 kills per set on a .267 hitting percentage. She also tallied 17 kills in the Illini's second-round win over No. 7-seeded Kentucky. She also ranked third on the team with 282 digs and 83 blocks, while sitting fourth with 29 service aces on the season.

The Topeka, Kansas, native finished with 1,507 kills in her career, which ranked 10th in Illini history at the time. She scored 1,734.5 points while totaling 346 blocks, 546 digs, 47 assists, and 44 service aces.

Cooney excelled in the classroom as a four-time Academic All-Big Ten selection, a 2021 Big Ten Distinguished Scholar and CoSIDA Academic All-District pick, and a 2020 Dean's List honoree.

AVCA ALL-AMERICA PROFILES

RAINA TERRY

2024 - THIRD TEAM

The program's all-time leader in kills, aces, and points, Raina Terry was named an AVCA All-American for the first time in her career following the 2024 campaign.

Terry excelled in all aspects of the game during her final season donning the Orange and Blue, helping the team make its 28th NCAA tournament appearance. The six-rotation player locked up her third-straight First Team All-Big Ten accolade and was one of five unanimous selections in 2024. The graduate student also took home AVCA All-Region honors for a third-straight season in 2024.

The outside hitter's stellar 5.26 points per set ranked first in the conference and 14th nationally, while the 599.5 points for Terry were good enough for third in the Big Ten and 16th in the country. Her 56 strikes from the service line placed her third in the league and 20th overall.

Terry's 4.42 kills per set put the Ohio native third in the conference and 25th nationally, while her 504 kills on the year ranked fifth in the Big Ten and 24th in the country.

The outside hitter posted double-figure kills in 30 of 31 matches during the 2024 season, including six performances with 20+ kills. Terry led the way in kills during 27 of the Illini's matches in her final year with the program.

Terry was the only active Big Ten player with over 2,000 career kills and over 200 career aces in 2024. She also closed out the year as the active career leader in all of Division I with 220 strikes from behind the service line.

Terry became the first player in Illinois volleyball history to be selected in the Pro Volleyball Federation draft, as she was picked 11th overall by the Columbus Fury on Nov. 25.
